Burgess Races Top Interest In Boroughs

For residents of the county's four boroughs, a main pre-election topic is: who will be the next burgesses?

In Stroudsburg incumbent Hal H. Harris is opposed by Republican Samuel R. Gearhart.

In the sister borough, East Stroudsburg, the former burgess, LeRoy J. Kleinle resigned and there is no elected or appointed burgess serving.

Running to capture the open post will be Republican Jesse S. Flory, and Democrat Clyde W. Shaffer, long-time school director.

In Delaware Water Gap Benjamin Wilberg is the incumbent and Republican candidate. He was named by council last summer to succeed former burgess Forrest Smith. Opposing will be Democrat M. E. Leffler.

Because of a reported inter-party dispute in Mount Pocono, the ticket lists no Republican candidate for burgess. Running on the Democratic ticket is Gerald M. Possinger.

School directorships in the four boroughs are among the most hotly-contested posts at this election.

Stroudsburg Republican candidates are Dr. John P. Lim, Clarence D. Ackerman and Richard R. Fredenberg. Democratic candidates are Dr. Lim (one of three men named on both tickets in the four boroughs), Dr. Marshall R. Metzgar and Samuel S. Everitt.

In East Stroudsburg voters will choose three school directors too. Republicans are Dr. Evan C. Reese, Dr. M. J. Leitner and Tancroft L. Cleveland. Democrats are James S. Bunnell, Jacob M. Hill and David L. Miller.

Lillian Stark is the sole candidate on both tickets in Delaware Water Gap. In Mount Pocono Republican Charles Brock will be opposed by Democrat Jennie M. Battisto.

Justice of the Peace William N. Walton of Stroudsburg is a candidate to succeed himself on the Republican ticket. Democratic candidate is Sam Lee.

In East Stroudsburg no peace justice is up for election. Delaware Water Gap's Justice J. T. Hauser appears on both tickets, as does the case with Mount Pocono's Emma B. Merwin.

Stroudsburg Republican candidate for borough auditor is Robert B. Altmore; Democrat is W. F. Altmore. In East Stroudsburg the Republican party failed to name a candidate. The Democrats chose Gladys Arnold.

Clarence E. Newhart is candidate for auditor on both tickets in Delaware Water Gap. In Mount Pocono Republican Glenice M. Dutler is opposed by Democrat Anna L. Viosak.

For tax collector there are contests in two boroughs. In East Stroudsburg Paul W. Lloyd is Republican candidate and A. Dewey Jacoby is Democratic candidate.

In Mount Pocono the Republican choice is Bessie C. Ingersoll and the Democrat is Martin J. Brennan.

Stroudsburg candidate on both tickets is John A. Kitchen; and in Delaware Water Gap on both tickets is Clarence E. Newhart.

Those are the borough-wide posts. Rating just as high in local interest are some races for council positions in the boroughs.

These are the candidates for council:

Stroudsburg: First Ward, Lawrence A. Zaccaro-R. Edward A. Doran-D; Third Ward: Samuel A. Lee, both tickets; Fifth Ward: Horace G. Heller, both tickets.

East Stroudsburg: First Ward, Harold Wiggins both tickets; Third Ward, Jack A. Wyckoff-R. Herman A. Smeltz-D; Sixth Ward, Roy F. Lloyd both tickets.

Delaware Water Gap, with four elected: Republicans Russell Shellenberger, Francis R. Drake, J. R. Staples and Richard Carlton; Democrats Willard D. Kitchen, John Flynn, and Staples and Carlton.

Mount Pocono, with three elected: Republicans J. Frank Birdsall Jr., George T. Walker and H. John Davis Jr.; and Democrats William J. Murray, Emanuel Miller and Patrick J. Horgan.

For property assessor, the following are candidates:

Stroudsburg: First Ward, K. Adams-R. Stephen Sackley-D; Second Ward, Mary Emma Teeter Garcia; Third Ward, Bessie Lee Clark both tickets; Fourth Ward, Floyd E. Fetherman both tickets; Fifth Ward, Robert Brown-R. Forrest H. Haney-D.

East Stroudsburg: First Ward, Schuman Smith-R. Paul Shaffer-D; Second Ward, Joanne W. Cummins-D unopposed; Third Ward, Raymond O. Mansfield both tickets; Fourth Ward, Theodore R. Henning-D, unopposed; Fifth Ward, Harold M. Smith both tickets; Sixth Ward, Fred Lipe Sr. both tickets.

Delaware Water Gap: John R. Staples both tickets.

Mount Pocono: no assessor to be elected.

State Court Judges To Be Chosen

Only one State contest is coming up at the general election Tuesday.

Voters will elect two Superior Court judges.

On the Republican ticket are J. Colvin Wright and Harold L. Ervin.

Opposing them will be Democrats John Ingraham Hook and W. C. Sheely.

In the county offices there is at least one shoe-in: Edward C. Hess is almost automatically assured of the post of county surveyor. He is the Republican and Democratic candidate for the job, as a result of primary write-ins.

There's no longer much work connected with the job; it's considered more of an honorary post nowadays.

For associate judgeships of Monroe County voters will pick two men. Republican candidates are Dayton W. Frankenhoff and Joseph S. Price. Democratic candidates are incumbent Homer A. Shupp, and John C. Smith.

For county treasurer, Monroe County will decide between Republican Frank J. Weiler and Democrat Edwin Giffels Sr.

Two men will oppose each other for the post of county coroner: Dr. Charles H. Rushmore is the Republican candidate, and John Sweeney is running for the Democrats.

The post of jury commissioner will be sought by two cousins on opposite side of the political fence, and both incumbents, Republican candidate is Clair M. Learn, and the Democrat is Clinton E. Learn.

Arabs Claim Gen. Bennike Threatened

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — Arab delegates said yesterday Maj. Gen. Vagn Bennike, U. N. trustee supervisor in Palestine, and some of his observer staff had been threatened with death by Israelis.

Charles Malik, Lebanese delegate on the Security Council, then formally asked Bennike whether he or any of his men had been threatened.

Bennike told the council he wanted time to consider this question and others asked him by several delegates. He told a reporter after the council adjourned for the day that he had nothing to say about himself but that it was commonly known he had bodyguards in the Holy Lands.

He went on to say he had Israeli guards when he was in Israel and Arab guards while in Arab territory.

Costello Freed From Prison But Faces New Trials

Detroit, (AP) — Big-time gambler Frank Costello came out of prison yesterday only to face the prospect of more federal prosecution on evading $212,466 in income tax. He also faces deportation.

The New York racket boss, whom the government set down for a year for his defiance of Congress, rode away from the Milan Federal Correctional Institution to a place and purpose he wasn't telling about.

All he would say was that he was going to take "a rest."

Tanker Explosion Kills State Man

Chicago, (AP) — A big Lake tanker carrying 580,000 gallons of gasoline blew up in Lake Michigan yesterday.

One crewman died and two others were injured as the 243-foot Blue Comet burst into flames in Calumet Harbor, a mile off the 92nd St. beach on the South Side. Eight other crew members and the tanker's skipper, Capt. Charles E. Quarry, 36, of East Lyme, Conn., were rescued uninjured.

Killed in the explosion was Edward Surville, 30, of Kingston, Pa.

Embassies Accused

New York, (AP) — A one-time Russian agent, going back a dozen years, said yesterday Soviet embassies were the hub of Russian spy activities. The witness was Ismail Akhmedov.

MARTINA BRENNAN models a collection of diamonds in New York at a fashion show featuring "a girl's best friend" and called "Diamonds U.S.A." Martina's apparel includes diamond horseshoe buttons, necklace, bracelets, hair clip earrings, and is valued at a very friendly $1,250,000.

Milk Strike Talks Hit Sudden Snag

New York, (AP) — Peace talks hit a sudden snag yesterday after a four-day milk strike seemed as good as ended.

Big milk trucks already were rumbling toward New York beneath sudden autumn skies in anticipation of the strike's end. But they reportedly were turned back when the latest deadlock developed.

At one point the industry blithely forecast an end to the strike in time for morning deliveries.

Later, the spokesmen backtracking and said probably not many plants actually would get back in operation before the weekend.

Irving R. Wisch, chairman of industry negotiators, blamed "areas of disagreement" with the union for the last-minute hitch.

A settlement of an AFL teamsters wage-hour dispute is expected to add a cent or 1 1/2 cents to milk prices for 12 million metropolitan area consumers in New York and northern New Jersey. Milk now sells at 27 cents a quart delivered, 2 1/2 cents in stores.

The strike has cost 50,000 supplier dairy farmers an estimated million dollars since it began Sunday afternoon. They complained, moreover, that it will depress their return on milk for months to come.

New York City has been dry of fresh milk for some 48 hours—since stores up supplies were exhausted. Restaurants and retail stores have had little or no milk since Sunday.

However, plenty of powdered and evaporated substitutes were available to meet household emergencies and ease the crisis.

The union asked a $15 a week boost in wages that now range from $82 to $125 a week, plus a five hour cut in the 40-hour work week.

Heavy Rains Fall In Eastern Area

(By The Associated Press)

Rain fell in eastern areas of the nation yesterday.

In some places the fall was heavy. In a 24-hour period it amounted to 3.22 inches in Philadelphia, 1.74 in Washington, D.C., and 1.96 in Richmond, Va.

Light rain was reported in the northwestern part of Washington state and Northwestern Montana.

The weather was sunny in most other regions. Temperatures ranged from the 40s to the 70s.

Seven Witnesses Refuse Questioning On Infiltration During Second World War

Washington, (AP) — The House Un-American Activities Committee announced yesterday it is making a full investigation "to determine the extent of" Communist infiltration in the Navy Department during World War II.

Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) said some leads already uncovered by a subcommittee "tie in with the expose of Morton Sobell," one of those convicted in the Julius Rosenberg case.

Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel, were electrocuted last June 19 on charges they had acted as atomic spies in this country for Russia. Sobell, convicted of being a courier for the same spy group, is serving a 30-year sentence in Alcatraz Prison.

Two weeks ago the U. S. Court of Appeals in New York turned down Sobell's appeal for a new trial on grounds of newly discovered evidence. Sobell, an electrical engineer, was a classmate of Rosenberg's in the College of the City of New York.

When the Rosenbergs were arrested in 1950, shortly after the Korean War began, Sobell fled to Mexico but that country refused to harbor him and he was returned to U. S. authorities.

Velde said eight witnesses already have been questioned about Communist infiltration of the U. S. Navy Department. Seven witnesses, he said, declined to answer "pertinent questions" on the grounds of possible self-incrimination.

None of the witnesses was identified, but Velde said some of them had access to confidential and restricted information while in the Navy Department.

Indicating they had come under suspicion previously, Velde said some of the witnesses had been given loyalty hearings by the Navy and had been retained in service after they denied membership in the Communist party. Velde's statement added:

"The particular Communist cell under investigation was so secret that its members could, during the loyalty investigation, successfully deny membership in the Communist cell without fear of being identified."

Velde said one witness who declined to answer questions regarding Communist membership has admitted receiving contracts with the Army after he left the Navy Department. One of these contracts, he added, involved the use of restricted photographs.

U.S. To Place Atrocity Facts Before U.N.

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — Stirred by American public horror, the U. S. delegation said here last night it will place before all the 60 United Nations the Army's documented, photographic record of Communist atrocities in Korea.

Whether it will call on the U. N. General Assembly to pass judgment and condemn the perpetrators of the deeds was not disclosed immediately.

A terse announcement from chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. said:

"The United States is placing on the agenda of the General Assembly the United States Army report on atrocities committed against captives in Korea by Communist forces."

The report from the Army War Crimes Division, made public Wednesday, told of the deaths by murder, torture and starvation of 29,815 persons behind Red lines in Korea. Of these, 6,113 were American soldiers.

It was documented with photographs and eye-witness stories.

"Word cannot describe the horror with which I view these exhibits," Lodge told reporters.

Senatorial demands for U. N. action came in Washington, too.

Vote Of Confidence

Williamsport, (AP) — The Pennsylvania State Grange last night gave the state Milk Control Commission a vote of confidence.

Greenglass Has 'Important' Information, Prober Reports

Lewisburg, Pa., (AP) — An aide of Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis.) said yesterday convicted atom spy David Greenglass has "some extremely important information" in the radar research field.

G. David Schine, chief counsel for the Senate permanent investigating subcommittee headed by McCarthy, made the statements to newsmen at the federal penitentiary here after a two-hour interview with the brother of executed atom spy Ethel Rosenberg.

Greenglass, serving a 15-year sentence for conspiracy to commit espionage, will be called before the full subcommittee in New York "as soon as possible," Schine said. The questioning of Greenglass was closed to newsmen.

Reds Reject Dean Proposal

Panmunjom, Friday, (AP) — The Communists today flatly rejected U. S. envoy Arthur Dean's proposal to settle the time and place of the Korean peace conference before discussing the matter of inviting neutral nations to the top-level meeting.

Dean proposed yesterday that the Reds "stop the nonsense" of angry debate at the preliminary talks, set a time and place for the main conference, and then exchange views on what nations should be invited to sit in on the big meeting.

Today North Korean Delegate Ki Suk Bok said Dean's proposal and suggested agenda are absolutely unacceptable.

North Koreans Will Submit To Interviews

Panmunjom, Friday, (AP) — The chairman of the Neutral Nations Reparation Commission today announced that anti-Communist North Korean war prisoners who stalled the prisoner interview program for 10 days by refusing to appear before Communist persuaders "are coming out tomorrow for explanations."

The Indian chairman of the five-nation commission, Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, had promised a "surprising" announcement today. There had been rumors he would announce that the North Koreans had agreed to face Red explanations.

Thimayya said the North Koreans made their decision Wednesday.

His announcement came after a brief final session with the prisoners after nearly 10 days of personal contact between the Indian general and the 7,800 violently anti-Communist North Koreans. Asked if the North Koreans definitely would attend Red interviews tomorrow, Thimayya said "so they have agreed."

Despite a show of force by their Indian guards, the North Koreans had flatly refused to come out of their neutral zone compounds and listen to Communist attempts to persuade them to return to their homelands.

Anti-Communist Chinese prisoners went to the explanation sessions willingly after an initial battle of a few hours, but once inside the interview booths they cursed, kicked and screamed at the Red explainers.

Overwhelming numbers of Chinese refused to go back to Red China, and the Communists finally insisted the North Koreans be brought out for interviews. The North Koreans refused.

Europe Stands At Crossroads. King Paul Says

Washington, (AP) — King Paul of Greece said yesterday Europe stands "at the crossroads of her own history" and can save herself only "by following the message of unity of purpose as a us by the United States."

Sharing the spotlight with pretty, vivacious Queen Frederika at a press-radio-television luncheon, the Greek King also stressed the necessity of international friendship.

King Paul said Greece is determined its new friendship with Turkey and Yugoslavia "shall not be exclusive but shall become a message of hope and daring possibility to some of our neighbors, who themselves, I am sure, are longing for friendship and peace."

Frederika and her husband left the White House, where they spent the night, in a flurry of goodbyes and sightseeing advice from President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

They drove in pouring rain to wreath-laying ceremonies at Mount Vernon and later at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Next came the luncheon in the Mayflower Hotel.

Brilliant American Pianist One Of 19 Killed In Crash

San Francisco, (AP) — Two minutes from its destination, a four-engine trans-Pacific plane from Australia rocketed into a fog-hidden hill yesterday and all 19 persons aboard died in the flaming wreckage.

The brilliant young American pianist, William Kapell, 31, of New York, was among the 11 passengers and eight crewmen so close to safe arrival at San Francisco International Airport when the British Commonwealth Pacific Airlines plane crashed. He was returning from a tour of Australia.

Ex-Cop Sheds No Light On Kidnap Money

Kansas City, (AP) — The policeman who nabbed the kidnap-killers of Bobby Greenlease and recovered half the $600,000 ransom ended a five-hour story before a federal grand jury yesterday.

But Lt. Louis Shoulders of St. Louis said he had no answer to the mystery of the missing $300,000 that apparently is the object of intensive interest to the jury investigating the fatal abduction.

"I wish you could tell me the money had been found," the bulky officer said. "That would make me the happiest man in the world."

A visit by the officer to the home of his landlady, Miss June Marie George, the night of the arrest, was one of the reasons for the hearing.

Actress Sees No Chance Of Reconciliation

Hollywood, (AP) — The two-year marriage of Ava Gardner, a glamorous "farmer's" daughter, and Frank Sinatra, an underweight crooner, hit the rocks yesterday. Miss Gardner said she would file for divorce but was undecided when.

"It's final this time," she told a reporter. "There's no chance of reconciliation." She gave no reason for the split. To the question whether a third party was involved, she answered no.

Frankie was husband No. 3 for the screen beauty. Her first husband was Mickey Rooney; her second, Artie Shaw.

Negotiations Progress

Paris, (AP) — Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said yesterday negotiations are proceeding satisfactorily to link Britain closely with the European Army plan.

Small Wonder She Didn't Suspect It Was Umpire

Fergus Falls, Minn., (AP) — A woman phoned the police station to report a "blind man" walking in circles in the athletic park.

"He can't find his way out; he's there over an hour feeling around with his white cane. Come and help him."

A policeman found a park employee picking up paper and other trash with a pointed white stick.

Turkey Skin Used In Making Shoes

Vienna, Austria, (AP) — Communist Hungary is making shoe uppers out of turkey skin, the newspaper Esti Budapest reported.

In a copy arriving here yesterday said: "Laboratory tests show that turkey leather is as tough as calf skin. The leather is being delivered in different colors by the state enterprise for shoe uppers."

Police Here On Lookout For Robber

Police in Monroe County were alerted yesterday following the morning robbery of a Palmer Township, Northampton County service station less than 300 feet from the township police station.

The owner was slugged and robbed of $207.65. The robbers drove off in a gray Chrysler sedan.

Attacked was William Michael, 29, of 203 N. Eleventh St., Easton. He said the two men entered the Butler St. station about 8 a.m., asked to use the rest room, then re-emerged in less than a minute, stuck a "hard object" in his back, took all the cash.

They swung him around, knocked him to the ground, then ran outside, jumped into their car and drove eastward.

Bartonsville Sunday School Has Program

Bartonsville—Sunday was a big day for members of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School here.

Prior to holding regular classes, temperance superintendent Haviland Heller gave an informative talk on "Alcoholism," stressing the loss of dollars and man hours caused by the disease. He stated that in New York alone, 106,000,000 man hours were lost last year from that cause.

After class sessions reports on the Monroe County Sunday School convention were presented by Superintendent and Mrs. Floyd Cyphers and Mrs. Claude Cyphers. They emphasized the need for evangelism and for more Sunday Schools to teach salvation by the way of the cross, using the short lesson period to teach Bible truths and not to entertain the children or discuss social activities.

Superintendent Cyphers announced that a meeting will be held in the parish house on Monday night, Nov. 2, at 8, to meet with pastor, John Bergstresser, for the purpose of discussing Sunday School lessons and activities. All officers are expected to attend and all members are invited to be present.

Due to the unfavorable weather conditions the scheduled hike to Kettle Run was not held at the close of Sunday School. Instead a doggie roast was held on the parish house lawn with the young people taking a short hike after.

A social time and games were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Cyphers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Haviland Heller, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Starner, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sprague and daughter Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Field and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bond and family, Mrs. Beatrice Swink and son Ronald, Kathryn Metzgar and Kathryn Walters.

Printing Firm Negotiates With Bangor To Build Plant Employing Over 200 Persons

Bangor—A printing firm may move here from Newark, N. J., if it is given a building site and enough employees to operate the plant.

The decision on the move will be made within three weeks by Giger Bros., which prints the Farmer's Almanac, calendars, and advertising specialties.

The company would employ 125 men and 85 women, said Allen Tucker, an executive of the firm, at a meeting here last night with the community's industrial committee.

If the company doesn't come to Bangor it will move to a community in Maine, Tucker said.

The move from Newark is being made because of the difficulty of getting help there, he said.

If the company comes to Bangor it will use about 46 office employees, 18 men and 28 women. Tucker said the firm has arranged financing for the construction of a building for the company.

William Hough, Chamber of Commerce president here, was instructed to make a survey of wages, rates, availability of workers and labor conditions in general to determine if the company can get the required labor supply here.

The industrial committee said it will appear before Borough Council to ask approval of the old Bangor Park as the site for a building for the company.

Small Game More Plentiful In Pennsylvania This Year, State Commission Reports On Eve Of Hunting Season

Harrisburg, (AP)—Small game in Pennsylvania this year is in greater numbers throughout the state than it was in 1952, a Game Commission report showed yesterday.

"Particularly plentiful this year are the cottontail rabbits, the most favored of small game among hunters of this state," a commission spokesman said.

The small game hunting season opening at 9 a. m. on Saturday was in danger of being postponed due to the prolonged drought. However, rain in the last few days allayed fears of forest fires and Gov. John S. Fine decided to permit the season to open as scheduled.

The Game Commission said yesterday that in addition to a large number of cottontail rabbits there is a considerable increase over last year in the quantity of ringneck pheasants.

Turkeys too are "exceptionally good in number," the commission reported. Squirrels, particularly gray and black, remain about the same in numbers as last year.

Grouse, Pennsylvania state bird and a quite elusive fowl, are reported slightly increased in numbers. The last survey of grouse was made about 10 days ago.

Raccoon are reported very plentiful throughout the Keystone State.

Refreshing Words

Cardinal Spellman's remarks on "McCarthyism," in a speech in Belgium, offered a welcome and refreshing change from the defensive tone that so many Americans have taken on that subject in speaking to Europeans.

No Americans untainted by association with Communism, the New York prelate told his Belgian audience, have been hurt by any of the congressional inquiries into subversive activities. If this statement does not fully account for every border-line incident in which the issue of civil liberties have been raised in behalf of witnesses, it may be added that the congressional committees are constantly refining and improving their procedures to prevent unfairness.

What is especially refreshing about Cardinal Spellman's remarks is that they constitute a positive affirmation of American patriotism and determination to uproot Communism. Too many American spokesmen abroad have tended to run down their country in order to win the plaudits of left-wing groups.

Critics of our congressional inquiries constantly argue that we are losing favor with European opinion because of our investigations of Communist infiltration. Actually, we are losing favor only with that opinion which has been poisoned by left-wing influence.

Social Security

Pay check deductions for Social Security will go up, on Jan. 1, to 2 per cent. The deduction now is 1½ per cent.

It should go up, because even at the higher figure the Social Security fund will not be taking in enough money to pay off its future obligations. If the system is to be on a sound actuarial basis, the deductions will have to be increased in future years to more than twice the present rate.

That never disturbed the Democratic administrations. They blithely continued the original 1 per cent rate when it should have been raised, and the present rate did not go into effect until 1951.

Now some Republicans in Congress, whose party was elected to power after promises to cut out the fiscal foolishness in Washington, are talking about legislation to nullify the January increase.

They have found that the Social Security increase, to millions of working people, will amount to as much as the income-tax cut they will receive at the same time. They fear therefore that the worker will not be properly grateful next November.

If the American workingman were as ignorant as this attitude implies, and his vote could be bought for a handout amounting to 35 cents a week, this movement might make some sense.

The fund was intended to be self-sustaining. The function of the government was simply to administer it.

There is no evidence that the people whose future is involved in the Social Security program want it to be anything other than self-supporting. Neither, for that matter, do most businessmen find any fault with it. They see its value to the morale of their own workers, and to the nation.

It is the politicians who, for reasons of their own, have meddled with the Social Security program in past years and are threatening to do so again.

If they succeed in putting the Social Security fund permanently in the red, future pensions will depend on handouts from the Treasury subject to the whims of Congress.

A political victory bought at that price would be too expensive for everyone concerned.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

As a result of that New York milk strike many an apartment dweller now regrets deciding not to keep a cow.

Moscow says its working people are doing so well they can afford champagne. We want to know what happens the first time a Russian workman shows up late with an explanation, "I had one quart too many and had to look around for my paper hat and horn."

What do you think we saw the other day? The first TV appearance of a VIRUS!

On the Museum of Natural History program...

Gave a good performance, too, and may be the one TV actor that can kill off those long commercials.

To people all over America who visit the city, New York must be making a screwy impression by its peculiar attitudes toward some of its institutions best known to the tourist trade.

New Yorkers, too, are a little dumbfounded. The Aquarium for generations a landmark at the end of Manhattan, is going to Coney Island of all places!

And Grand Central Palace, long famed for its great exhibitions, saw its last show the other day and is being converted into an office building for a Federal bureau.

(We would not be surprised to hear the Statue of Liberty is to be transferred to the Bronx and that Madison Square Garden is closing down as a sports center in order to afford better housing for the U.S. Bureau of Fisheries.

It was in Grand Central Palace that through the years the public saw the auto, flower, motorboat and sportsman's shows among scores of other spectacles, all highly helpful to business and an aid to pleasure.

From now on you will find a U.S. Government official standing on the spot where the prize rose garden once stood.

A group of tax collectors assembled where the rainbow trout and beavers swam in the State of Maine exhibit.

A big conference underway where Sharkey the Seal once did tricks in the indoor pool.

An array of stenographers and clerks taking up the space where for so many years thousands milled among the sport cruisers, speedboats, yachts and yachting supplies! The whole thing seems so depressingly typical of government, which pretends to go all out to make people happy and promote business, yet deals a knockout blow to a source of joy to millions and a king-size medium for industrial exploitation.

We think that a front window should be maintained in Grand Central Palace, just to keep a trace of the old-time mood, and that in it should be a tableau representing Uncle Sam defying Horse Sense.

Folks all over the country are asking about that transfer of the Aquarium to Coney. They want to know whether this means an Aquarium featuring the popcorn-devooring halibut, the half-her and the frankfurter-eating mako ring half-man, the Siamese cod shark.

(Will the shark attack a hotdog unless annoyed?) Well, we are informing them that we anticipate these features along with the salmon that does NOT swim upstream, the eel that walks like a man and the sword-swallowing swordfish.

"Step thisaway, folks, and see that sensation of the seas, the sailfish with malsail and two jibs!"

Behold, ladies and gentlemen, that remarkable specimen of marine life, the only WHITE marlin with red and blue stripes.

Over here, folks, we present the Boston Blue that can play the xylophone and that wonder of wonders, the OYSTER that doesn't give a darn whether there are R's in a month or not!

Keep away from that giant saw-toothed scallop, little girl! Last night it bit two people!"

John Forsythe, up to stardom in "The Teahouse of the August Moon," made it after a long struggle.

Took jobs as a soda jerker and elevator operator to make both ends meet.

We ran into a Broadway actor who was out of work, and asked what had happened.

"I dunno; I lacked humility, I guess."

Frank Lloyd Wright was pretty wonderful on "Omnibus."

Yale students are running a TV station.

This is one place where there will be no objection to "blue" material, obviously.

Bob Hope has won worldwide plaudits for his great work in entertaining servicemen in all combat areas, and deserves them, but it doesn't excuse him for the shabby vulgarities of his TV performances for the American home.

"HAVE A HEART!"

Robert S. Allen Reports

Deficit Finance Will Be Ike's Policy For A Year

Washington — President Eisenhower and his top advisers have arrived at a series of far-reaching fiscal decisions that will directly and favorably affect the pocketbook of every taxpayer.

You will soon hear hearing officials about these significant policies, starting with a nationwide broadcast by the President himself.

Following are the key features of these tax and budget plans:

No new major taxes will be requested of Congress next year. The President has ruled out a manufacturers' tax, as well as his already announced edict against a general sales tax.

Congress will be asked to continue the existing 52 percent rate on corporate taxes, plus all prevailing excise taxes. Also, a few other excise taxes will be sought but they will be of a "minor" nature.

Government expenditures will be slashed in the new budget, by upwards of $3,500,000,000 in order to offset the bulk of the revenue that will be lost as a result of the expiration of the excess profits tax and the 10 percent emergency income levy.

The loss in collections from these sources will exceed $5,000,000,000.

Deficit financing will be the Administration's policy for at least another year.

These momentous decisions were reached after lengthy discussions within the National Security Council, the top policy agency of the Administration.

The background—Two officials played a leading role in these extended deliberations—Treasury Secretary George Humphrey and Budget Director Joseph Dodge, both vigorous advocates of economizing, balancing the budget and reducing taxes.

But after careful consideration of detailed economic and political surveys, the Security Council unanimously agreed on the above fiscal program.

The underlying factors that led to these far-reaching decisions are:

World conditions do not permit the deep cuts in military and foreign aid expenditures that would be required to balance the budget in fiscal 1955. Only a pronounced lessening of international tensions will enable the budget to be balanced in fiscal 1956. That is the over-all goal now aimed for by the Administration.

Various economic stresses and readjustments taking place in the country make continuance of deficit financing advisable.

Such a course is further underscored by the certainty that Congress will not vote new taxes in an election year.

A private preview of inner Administration thinking on these crucial matters was presented by Secretary Humphrey during his recent West Coast visit.

The Treasury chief made two talks: one public in San Francisco at a Republican fund-raising dinner, and the other before a Commerce Department business advisory group at Pebble Beach, Calif.

It was at the latter meeting that Humphrey made his revealing remarks about the Administration's fiscal policies.

One of the most significant things he told the businessmen is that the Administration is working closely with Representative Dan Reed (R., N. Y.), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which originates all tax legislation.

This disclosure is of utmost importance for two reasons: (1) Reed is vehemently against both a sales and manufacturers' tax, and (2) he is equally insistent that taxes be slashed next year and sees no cause for alarm in a continued unbalanced budget.

The fact that top White House advisers are now in accord with Reed is a big change from the recent session of Congress. Then they warred bitterly over tax policies.

But Humphrey stated that during the past month Reed has spent a lot of time advising Treasury officials on tax legislation.

"I have learned to have a very healthy respect for Dan Reed," Humphrey frankly admitted to the businessmen. "No one pushes him around. He isn't made that way; he won't budge. He is working closely with us on tax problems and we are very grateful to him for his help and guidance."

Reed subsequently confirmed this back stage cooperation in chats with members of the Ways and Means Committee.

"The Administration has come around to seeing things my way on taxes," the militant upstate New Yorker said. "I don't think we'll have any trouble getting along together in the coming session."

For one thing, they are greatly worried about a possible recession and they know that if taxes aren't reduced the economic decline could snowball into a serious upset.

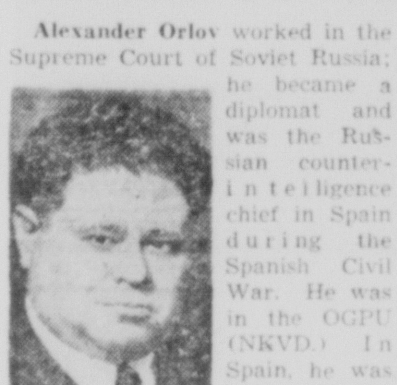

"I have also made it clear to them that I see nothing wrong in continuing deficit financing for another year. That won't wreck the country, I consider it far more important in the interest of national prosperity to stimulate business with a reduction in taxes than to balance the budget. Doing that is very desirable when we can afford it, but we can't afford it for the present."

Note: Humphrey also told the West Coast businessmen that while every effort is being made to curb government spending in the new budget, "Such reductions will not be made at the expense of national defense and security."

The floor plan of most of the world's great cathedrals is in the shape of a cross.

George Sokolsky Says...

Alexander Orlov's New Book Shows Stalin Conducted Carnival Of Murder For Years

Alexander Orlov worked in the Supreme Court of Soviet Russia; he became a diplomat and was the Russian counter-intelligence chief in Spain during the Spanish Civil War. He was in the OGPU (NKVD) in Spain, he was an adviser to the Spanish Republican government on matters relating to counter-intelligence and guerrilla warfare behind the enemy lines.

When he saw that many who had been Stalin's colleagues and whose loyalty was unquestionable were being murdered, he escaped before his number came up. For many years, he has been in hiding.

Alexander Orlov has now written a most valuable book, "The Secret History of Stalin's Crimes," which has been published by Random House. It is an objective report, written about men he knew and worked with, whom he characterizes with intimacy and understanding.

He establishes the authenticity of his material in this and subsequent paragraphs:

"I have written down the directives which Stalin personally gave to the NKVD chiefs at the conferences in the Kremlin; his instructions to the NKVD inquirers on methods of breaking the resistance of Lenin's friends and exhorting from them false confessions. I have recorded Stalin's personal negotiations with some of his victims and the words actually spoken by the doomed men."

Behind the walls of the Lubianka Prison, I obtained these closely guarded secrets from the NKVD interrogators themselves, some of whom had, in the past, been subordinate to me. Among them was my former assistant Mironov, chief of the Economic Administration of the NKVD, who had been one of Stalin's chief aides in the preparation of the Moscow trials and Boris Berman, deputy chief of the Foreign Department of the NKVD.

The character of Stalin stands out like a horrible, frightening nightmare; this man was devoid of all moral qualities. He killed his wife; he hated his eldest son, who disappeared in Germany during World War II; he killed his brother-in-law; he killed his two most intimate personal friends; he killed his political associates; he killed the men who did the killing for him, Yagoda and Yezhov; he killed the women and children of the families of the men he killed.

Names, dates, trials, purges, conversations, reports, all are given in this book with a calm objectivity that becomes a profile of the debasement of human nature.

The impression that I got from reading this book is that all of Stalin's murders were unnecessary, even from self-interest, and therefore could only have been the product either of a disordered homosexual mind, or that the man lived in such fears that he could assuage them only by constant self-convincing acts of torture and murder.

One of his instruments was Andrei Vishinsky, now the Soviet representative at the United Nations, to whose dastardly ability

Dr. Charles W. Mayo called attention in his brilliant United Nations speech. Orlov and Vishinsky worked together in the Supreme Court. Vishinsky, who attacks our country regularly with filthy venom, was, in his younger years, a bootlicker, an apple polisher, a vindictive careerist. And the facts are given in detail.

I know Orlov. Some day he ought to write a book on the Spanish Civil War, particularly the part played by Americans in the Abraham Lincoln Brigade. This story has never been told in full. Also, it would be of great value to have him make a comparison between the espionage and counter-intelligence methods used by Soviet Russia and the United States. The Russians have done such a magnificent job in the United States, infiltrating our government and the institutions of our people, stealing our atom bomb and our radar developments, that the pattern of work ought to be described to our people.

It is not often that one of Orlov's experiences lives long enough to come over to our side. Gouzenko, who exposed the spy ring in Canada, and Kravchenko, who provided some data on the spy ring in the United States, while their contributions were of value, never attained as high positions or such intimate personal relations as Orlov. And they did not know Stalin. Today, other men like Alexander Orlov are in hiding in various parts of the world. They might be encouraged, if they see what Orlov has done, to fill in some of the blank spaces in this carnival of murder.

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

Broadway Reporter

"Late Love," which was greeted with lukewarm notices 3 weeks ago, will be moved to the Booth Theater by the Shuberts, who tell time with a cash register. The public apparently enjoys it. It made an $8,000 profit last week.

The McGuire Sisters' latest recording, "You Never Know Till Monday" was rushed for release yesterday. David Wayne's success in the new hit, "Teahouse of the August Moon," lifted his name into top billing for 20th's "How To Succeed in a Millionaire." "Take A Giant Step," hailed as a play of "distinction and integrity" by most critics, now resorts to suggestive ads to lure patrons. Miles White, whose designs embellished many Broadway shows, was robbed and beaten up in his 45th Street apartment. Despite all the hoopla about bars in theaters not one legit playhouse has applied for a liquor license.

The Herbert Family is the busiest on Broadway. Papa (F. Hugh Herbert) has a new show, "A Girl Can Tell"; daughter Diana is in "Wonderful Town"; Pamela is as producer of the musical, "Shaggy Dog," and the family pet, "Tassie," gets $50 per week as the poodle in "Ladies of the Corridor." Pay Kanin, who co-authored Celeste Holm's upcoming play, "His and Hers" (with husband Mike), is described as "the most beautiful playwright." Every cent of child actor Brandon de Wilde's (ABC's "Jamie") salary goes into trust funds. He gets it when he's 21. The ticket brokers aren't happy about the sellouts of the two Tea shows ("Tea & Sympathy" and "Teahouse"). The after-parties hog them most of the time into late November. Clark Gable's 18 months overseas income (which he was assured would be non-taxable) will get the Tax Dept's microscope. Doris Day's "illness" was, over disappointment of the "Lucky Me" script which she hates.

When the scandal from London broke about Sir John Gielgud's arrest on a morals charge to which he pleaded guilty, a New York newspaper caught this head in time: "When Knighthood Was A Flower." The reports from the coast about Howard Hughes' "favorite" actress will be debunked when he stars Susan Hayward in his next epic. The Bird 'n' Glass on E. 47th, a new spot, rates actor Gene Lockhart closest to its heart. The first celeb to come in... Deborah Kerr, who scaled the heights of Hollywood and Broadway, now aspires for a musical show. She is taking singing lessons at a Carnegie Hall studio. Martha Wright will play her 1000th perf in "So. Pacific" on Dec. 8th. The first player (in a starring role) to match Frank Bacon's "Lightnin'" run of 30 years ago... Since the musicians got their raise last week actors are now the lowest paid of regular theater employees.

Barbara Luna started in show business as one of the Pinza children in "So. Pacific" when she was 10. She was promoted to "King and I" as Yul (the King) Brynner's eldest daughter. When she grew out of that costume she became one of the Royal Dancers. Later, one of his concubines... Now she is one of his wives... She is 15... Her father is a Copa waiter... Critical Digest reports that last week's legit theater attendance totaled 153,000 patrons. Less than the number of paid admission (the same week) to see "Mogambo" at the Music Hall. The stars of a top musical are avoiding with the conductor they allege he is hard of hearing. The femme lead is on the verge of tears every performance... "Five Minutes After Twelve" is a new film (made in Germany) about Hitler and Eva Braun. Herr Monster, we hear, doesn't come off too badly in it... "Decameron Nights," the new movie starring Joan Fontaine and Louis Jourdan (based on Boccaccio's rabelaisian classics), has several "How did they ever get away with it?" episodes.

Broadway Showcase: When 7 year old Bruce Weil made his recording, "God Bless Us All," they needed a girl to sing a one line introduction as the child's mother... An unknown thrush named Vickie Carol gladly took the job... The platter sold over 400,000 copies... Vickie's part (which lasted only 5 seconds) was "Time to say your prayers, dear"... The way she delivered it caught the ear of Mr. Big at Harbour Records... Her first release will be "Love While You're Young," due in 2 weeks... As critic George Jean Nathan once said (when asked why he wrote for an obscure paper 20 years ago): "If it's good, the right people are sure to see it."

Jack Frost has been taking an awfully long time to get around to doing his annual job. Could he be suffering from a belated case of spring fever?

With fights being televised four nights a week it's no wonder our TV set tube is beginning to act punch drunk.

In view of those attacks on Agriculture Secretary Benson, would it be correct to say he's being farm belted?

Florence Chadwick, the famous swimmer, will now take up golf. It's going to be tough for her to learn to keep her head down when she's always had to keep it up!

Mrs. Zadok Dunkopf is worried that when color television becomes a reality the hues won't match the living room wall paper.

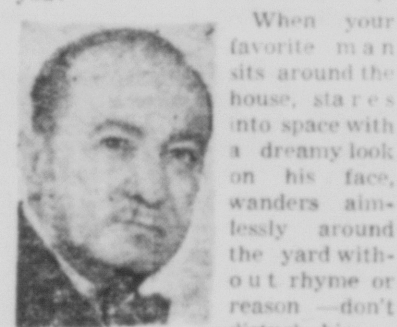

Junior, who is an avid follower of radio commercials, now wants to know what breakfast food Samson preferred.

In old times children were often named after a great event which occurred in the year of their birth. We can just visualize a proud father and Yankee fan passing out the cigars at the arrival of Five Pennants-in-a-Row Jones.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Ladies, let this be a lesson to you!

When your favorite man sits around the house, stares into space with a dreamy look on his face, wanders aimlessly around the yard without rhyme or reason—don't disturb him.

He is not thinking about that beautiful blonde hussy across the street or of that poker game in Jim's house to which you wouldn't let him go.

He is, most likely, developing a big idea, or working on a very important plan for his business—a plan that may buy you anything of which you ever dreamed. That stupid look in his eyes may be the forerunner of a vast fortune that is coming your way.

I have it from a very high authority, the New England Journal of Medicine.

"Idleness, once the habit is acquired," it says here, "seems to carry with it its own reward, although its pleasures may be enhanced by a contemplation of the activities of others."

Just to deviate for a moment from my main theme—namely that of "scientific loafing"—have you ever watched those sidewalk superintendents who spend a half hour or an hour at a time wherever a new building is being constructed?

There they stand with open mouths, watching the bulldozers, the steam shovels, the drillers and shovelers. Apparently these people are not doing a darn thing when, as a fact, they may greatly benefit "by a contemplation of the activities of others."

So, please ladies, don't mind it if your husband "just sits." It may irk you very much to see him lying down on the couch or trying everything under the sun to get out of helping you with the dishes. There may be a scientific reason for it, says the medical journal.

The person who can "just sit and do absolutely nothing, may, at any minute, come up with the most sensational ideas," according to doctors.

After bribing the parking attendant to keep his mouth shut, the three meekly rode home in a taxicab.

As a matter of fact, the article goes farther than that. That man of yours, whom you might ordinarily describe to yourself as an "incurable loafer," indeed, may be said to have achieved a new and high level of maturity."

I have heard it said so often that all men are nothing but overgrown boys. But now you have it right from the horse's mouth.

We are not overgrown boys at all—we are just maturing. And, according to the doctors, the lazier we seem to be, the more mature we are getting.

So please, ladies, don't keep us from ripening!

By the way—I think it fits right in here—in Newark, N. J., a Husbands' Protective Association has just been formed.

This association will issue regular bulletins with alibis that may be used, and with other bits of advice on how to get along with women.

Later on it is planned to publish the names of all members' wives who have abused their husbands and how they have abused them.

I have the name and address of the organization, but I am not a member.

I know better, having been married these many years.

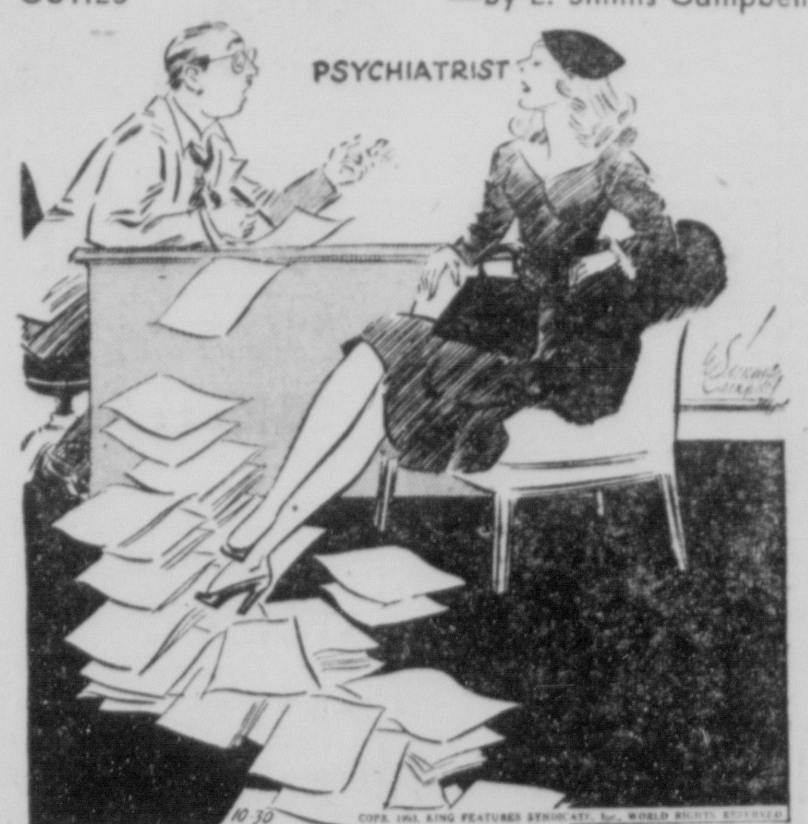

Try and Stop Me

Maurice Zolotow recalls an exciting occasion which Houdini, the escape artist; Blackstone, the magician; and Dunninger, the mind reader, went to a benefit performance in Dunninger's car. When they came back to the parking lot, Dunninger discovered he had mislaid the car key and couldn't remember where he had left it. Blackstone couldn't get the car door open. And Houdini, who claimed he could get out of any straightjacket or padlocked dungeon, couldn't pick the lock. After bribing the parking attendant to keep his mouth shut, the three meekly rode home in a taxicab.

Water Company At Mount Pocono Asks 50 Per Cent Rate Hike

Request Filed With PUC At Harrisburg

Mount Pocono—Fairview Water Company's request to Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission for a 50 per cent rate increase filed this week in Harrisburg, will be aired before Borough Council here Monday night, Dr. L. T. Powers, chief burgess said yesterday.

The rate increase also includes a request for permission to install meters at various points.

A. J. Zabriskie, president of the water company said last night the request for increased rates is necessitated by augmented operational costs. The Water Company applied Monday for the increases effective January 1.

According to Zabriskie, the last rate hike was granted in 1929 and rising costs of labor and materials motivated the recent action.

Zabriskie also cited higher electrical rates as another reason for the request but said increased wages is the big item which prompted action. He also noted that bondholders of the company have received no interest remuneration in the past five years.

Asked if the company ever was contacted to sell its interests to the borough Zabriskie said he received no "bona fide" offer but indicated the company offered the plant and its facilities for sale several years ago. He declined to stipulate the asking price.

Incorporated in 1900, the company serves 264 subscribers in the borough which reportedly has about 440 dwellers. Others not on the Fairview line receive their water from dwells.

Zabriskie said two reservoirs supply the borough customers with water and reported there have been no complaints of water shortage within the past few years. He recalled several recent newspaper articles concerning low water conditions of area communities, pointing out that Mount Pocono always was listed as having a good supply. Water is pumped from Whiskey Springs up a 400-foot incline, the president added.

Capital stock of the utility was purchased by Colonial Securities Corp. in 1941, Zabriskie said. Officers of the corporation in addition to Zabriskie are R. C. Cramer, vice president and Mrs. W. W. L'Hon-medieu, C. R. Bensinger is counsel and Russell Smith is superintendent.

Zabriskie pointed to the 1946 major highway improvement in the borough as another factor in increasing costs of operation. The construction program sent Route 611 through the borough's center.

In a letter to customers the water company stated 50 per cent increases will be asked for "all classes of customers and all types of fixtures other than school room, depot, public garages, auto washing machines and public fire hydrant."

The notice said flat rates heretofore in effect but not provided in the tariff for "bar rooms with sanitary fixtures and golf course and club house" are established and increased by 50 per cent.

Listed among the changes are the deletion from flat rate lists the following: private garage, water washing machine, water-cooled ice box machine, cows, lively stable, public drinking fountain, urinals, constant running.

The notice also establishes a schedule of meter rates and rules governing their application, installation and billing.

Also asked are amendments to a ruling for proving notice of discontinuing service; a regulation setting up deposit requirements and withdrawal of two rules which are termed contrary to law and commission regulations.

Zabriskie said these two rules concern the right of the company to refuse supplying water to places when an emergency develops, and that no agent was authorized to bind the company on agreements. Both are stricken from the regulations with this latest application, he added.

Dr. Powers said he expects the matter to be aired Monday night when council meets. Official protests, he predicted, probably would come through a group of private citizens.

The chief burgess said council filed through its solicitor, Elmer D. Christine last Summer, a complaint to the PUC, relative to service, but no hearing developed.

Harry Taylor, borough secretary, confirmed the official action taken by the municipality which resulted from complaints of residents that pressure was low, and in some instances, Taylor added, residents said no water supply reached their homes.

Voters To Decide Whether They Want New Constitution

(See story on Page 7)

Harrisburg, AP—Do the voters of Pennsylvania want a new state Constitution?

That is the question they will answer on Nov. 3 at a statewide referendum.

The question on the ballot is: a convention of a new Constitution subject to ratification by a vote of the people?

The question was ordered placed on the ballot after months of argument in the 1953 session of the Legislature over the years-long issue of replacing the state's 79-year-old Constitution.

Gov. John S. Fine, pressing for revision, wanted the Assembly to set up machinery for a Constitution convention to meet early next year in Harrisburg. The House agreed to the idea but the Senate balked.

The argument in the Senate was it should first be determined if the voters want a new Constitution before going ahead with an expensive Constitution convention. If the idea meets voter approval next week, the Legislature then will have the job of setting up machinery.

When the question of Constitution revision last was placed before voters in 1935, the Legislature appropriated $650,000 for expenses of a Constitution convention. The money, however, never was used since the proposal was defeated.

Proponents of a new Constitution argue that the present basic law, adopted in 1874, is obsolete and should be brought up to date in light of modern days conditions.

But opponents contend the Constitution has stood the test of time and always is open to amendment for any needed changes.

Two provisions of the Constitution have figured largely in the current debate.

One limits the commonwealth's debt to one million dollars without approval of the voters. Under that provision the recent $500,000,000 state veterans' bonus was approved by the voters before bonds were issued to finance it.

To get around that provision the General State Authority and other authorities have been set up. They issue revenue bonds to finance building projects and rent the completed projects to the state. The rentals are used to pay off the bonds.

Another provision requires that taxes shall be uniform upon all classes of property. That provision prevents enactment of a graduated state income tax such as is imposed by the federal government.

Rains Save Late Crops In State

Harrisburg, AP—The State Department of Agriculture credited rains of the last few days with saving millions of dollars worth of late crops on drought-plagued Pennsylvania farms.

"The farmers would have lost millions of dollars in late fall crops had a cold spell set in before the rains came," the department said.

The department referred to late fall vegetables still in the ground and wheat, barley, hay and alfalfa. The grain crops and some of the vegetables will be harvested early next summer.

After cutting into the farmer's income in late summer crops, the drought threatened to show its effects on the growers' pocketbook next year by delaying the planting of the late crops.

"The heat and lack of rain during the late summer inflicted millions of dollars of losses in wilted produce and other crops and then postponed the planting of late fall seeds by baking the earth into an unplowable crust," the department noted.

Almost two inches of rain fell in the southeastern section of the state Wednesday, the U. S. Weather Bureau reported. Lighter rainfalls were measured in other sections.

The Agriculture Department said the rainfall was sufficient in all parts of the state to accelerate the germination and growth of late-planted crops sufficiently to assure their thriving through the winter months.

The Forests and Waters Department reported no great change in the condition of streams and rivers as a result of the rains.

"Although the streams are low in most sections, we have not been notified of any serious situations in the state," a department spokesman said.

JUST RELEASED BY THE U. S. Defense Department, this photographic evidence of atrocities committed by the Chinese and North Korean Communists is one of scores of horrifying pictures contained in a report of the War Crimes Division. The carefully documented report accused the Reds of "barbaric, bestial and unspeakable" crimes, including the mass murder and emasculation of 6,113 Americans and 23,702 others. Shown here are some of the victims of the Tsoj massacre lying, with hands bound, in trenches dug in advance for their hasty burial.

Settling Differences With Russia On No-Compromise Basis Urged By Churchmen

Cleveland, CP—American Christian leaders yesterday came up with this tentative conclusion about this country's relation with Russia—that settlement of differences appears "impossible at present."

But the proposed church declaration, worked out in three days of conferences, urges "every effort to negotiate workable agreements without compromise of basic convictions."

The message, still to be voted on by the final assembly, asserts:

"The differences are so fundamental and the lack of confidence on both sides so deep and stubborn that anything worthy of the name of reconciliation appears impossible at present."

But the 450 delegates, seeking to draw from Christian teachings a righteous approach to world issues, added:

"Since it is our Christian faith that God can bring about changes that seem beyond human power, we refuse to believe that such reconciliation is finally impossible."

The delegates, representing 30 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations with 35 million members, heard a message from President Eisenhower commending them for their work.

The meeting, he said, can make "a real contribution not only to public understanding of foreign policy issues, but to the sound conduct of foreign affairs as well."

He said the National Council of Churches, sponsor of the event, "already has done a remarkable job in this respect."

The proposed declaration declares that "Soviet totalitarianism" and its "world-wide conspiracy" has made "military strength essential" to meet the threat, but adds:

"Political and economic health, social and spiritual vision are in the long run even more basic."

The tentative message declares that since Christian faith recognizes the "sovereignty of God over history, we cannot accept another global war as inevitable."

The draft declaration says Christians are obligated "to support the United Nations as the body most essential to the freedom of nations and the peace of the world."

Efforts to achieve "the largest practicable degree of disarmament" should be pressed through the U. N., the draft states.

Mack Reports On Results Of Inquiry

Tobyhanna—Following an investigation of charges of alleged political influence on employment at the Tobyhanna Signal Corps Depot, Col. William M. Mack, commanding officer, announced yesterday that as far as the operations of his command are concerned, no concrete evidence has been discovered which substantiated these allegations.

All persons who believed to have information or evidence of alleged irregularities in this matter were interviewed for leads or testimony. In addition, a public announcement was made inviting all persons who believed they had information or evidence of the matter to present their information during the investigation.

So far there has been no information presented which proved political favoritism in the hiring procedures, Col. Mack declared. He pointed out also that allegations of mal-practices in areas outside the jurisdiction have been referred to appropriate authorities for necessary action.

Col. Mack further stated, "Everyone in this organization is doing his best to operate an installation about which the people of this area can always be proud, and we are determined that nothing will sully our reputation."

"Employment at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot always has been and always will be strictly in accordance with rules and regulations laid down by the Civil Service Commission and the Department of the Army. We are determined that we are going to continue doing the kind of a job that the Army, the Signal Corps and this community can be proud of."

a three-day silence to say she was confident the marriage "is the best thing that could have happened."

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. J. Koenig, associate pastor of the Lansing First Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

The bridegroom said he had been in love with the mother of the quads "for more than a year." "I wanted to marry June a long time ago," he said, "but we had a little misunderstanding and it just never came off. I hope I can be a good husband and father."

Quadruplets' Mother Weds

Lansing, Mich., CP—At a hastily arranged bedside marriage ceremony, Lansing's Troll in an quadruplets yesterday found a father and became the Van Alstine quads.

Mrs. June Trollman, 33, pretty brunette divorcee, mother of the quads, was married in a simple ceremony to George W. Van Alstine, 34, strapping Lansing automobile serviceman.

"I'm really happy now for the first time in months," the bride declared.

Marrying the happiness for the couple was the death of one of the quads the last born, a boy.

The two other boys and a girl are winning their battle for survival.

The bridegroom said he had been in love with the mother of the quads "for more than a year."

County-Wide Reformation Service Scheduled Sunday In East Borough Church

In recognition of the great spiritual factors that become a permanent part of the heritage of Protestantism, the county-wide reformation Sunday service will be held in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

This service, which is an outgrowth of action by the Monroe County Ministerium several years ago, has been marked by outstanding programs. Previous years have attracted overflow throngs.

The program for this year includes the participation of members of the cabinet of officers of the Monroe County ministerial group, with Rev. Frank H. Blatt, pastor of Zion Reformed Evangelical Church, giving the invocation; Rev. Earl Hosler, pastor of the Monomite Brethren of Christ Church leading the psalter reading.

The New Testament scripture will be read by Rev. David C. Newquist, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Shawnee. Rev. Roger C. Stinson, pastor of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church will give the pastor prayer; the benediction will be pronounced by Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor of the Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The sermon this year, following the custom established, will be given by Rev. George F. Weinland, pastor of the Monroe County ministerium.

Ernest Michelfelder, organist-director of the host church, presents the music program which includes a psalm, "Pilgrim's Chorus from

"Tannhauser" with a brass trio whose personnel is Ernest Michelfelder Jr., Barry Lambert and Thomas Metzgar, featured in the prelude. Mrs. Jean Ann Woolbert will sing the offertory solo, "The Great Awakening."

A chorus choir of more than 100 voices will crowd the balcony of the church and will sing, "I Will Magnify the Lord with Thee." This chorus choir has always been a potent part of the Reformation Sunday service and is composed of members of the choirs of all churches of the county. A capacity congregation is anticipated.

The Maoris, the people found by the white men in New Zealand, are believed to have migrated there in the 10th Century A.D.

One Referendum, Four Amendments On Ballot

Constitution Convention Key Issue

Registered voters in Monroe County next Tuesday will express their will on one referendum and four amendments to the Pennsylvania Constitution.

Holding the spotlight of interest is the referendum—a proposal that a convention be called in Pennsylvania to prepare a new Constitution for the Commonwealth, such new Constitution to be subject again to the will of the people.

Any new Constitution—if voters approve calling a convention for that purpose—will have to be approved or rejected by the vote of the people.

As framed on the ballot voters will receive next Tuesday, the question of a Constitutional Convention reads:

"Do you favor the preparation by a convention of a new constitution subject to ratification by a vote of the people?"

First of the four proposed amendments to the already amendment-patched Constitution which voters will have an opportunity to approve or reject is:

"Shall Section One of Article 13 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania be amended to permit county treasurers to be eligible to succeed themselves?"

At present the Pennsylvania Constitution prohibits a county treasurer from running for office to succeed himself. In other words, consecutive terms for a treasurer are now prohibited.

Second proposed amendment which voters will pass on next Tuesday reads:

"Shall Section 18 of Article 8 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania be amended to permit the enactment of laws whereby qualified bidders or physically incapacitated war veterans who are unable to go to the polls may vote in their election districts?"

If approved, this amendment would permit a disabled veteran unable to leave his home or hospital, to vote on a ballot from his own election district.

Third proposed amendment to the Constitution poses this question for decision by the voters:

"Shall Section One of Article Nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania be amended to permit the General Assembly to make special provision for taxing private forest reserves?"

Private forest reserves are not now taxable under the Constitution. This amendment opens the door for approval or rejection of this taxation question.

Fourth and final proposed amendment reads:

"Shall Section eight of Article five of the Constitution of Pennsylvania be amended to authorize the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County to detail judges of the County Court to hold the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and the Courts of Quarter Sessions of the Peace of that county?"

Approval of this amendment is sought so that judges of Courts of Common Pleas in Allegheny County, now restricted to duty in that specific field, may be assigned to duties on the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and the courts of Quarter Sessions of the Peace.

Although the issue is strictly one to alleviate a condition in only one county—Allegheny—since courts are created and their respective duties prescribed by the Constitution, it necessitates an amendment to the Constitution on which all voters of the state are to pass judgment.

Burgess Contest Holds Chief Interest At Bangor

By W. John Heard
Bangor — The biggest battle in Bangor's elections next Tuesday seems to be the battle for chief burgess with Hayden B. Pritchard, incumbent, Democrat, seeking reelection to his second term and being challenged by Bryden O. Strunk, the Republican nominee.

Industrial development of Bangor has been made a major campaign issue.
Mr. Strunk has pledged himself to bring new industry to the community and has stated in an appearance before council that he represents at least one industry looking for land upon which to build an industry to employ some 200 persons.

Mr. Pritchard has countered with a building site, the former Sterling Glove Company building, owned by the Kayser Company, Inc., for use of any industry which desires to enter Bangor. Mr. Pritchard has also appealed to the voters to support him on the basis of his four-year record.

Mr. Pritchard is a local businessman and Mr. Strunk is a blacksmith for the Hercules Cement Co. Mr. Strunk is just finishing a six-year term as school director, during which time he served as president for one year.

Next in line is the possibility of a lively contest for the office of tax collector with the bid of Isaiah (Ike) Resh, Republican and local grocer, to win the job from Democratic incumbent, Max Oxford, who is completing his fourth term.

There are three school directors to be elected for a six-year term.

The Republican slate lists David Stoddard, a present board appointee filling out the term vacated by James P. Miller; newcomers, Albert A. Docking and Dr. Nicholas Cascario Jr. Mr. Stoddard, now president of the School Board, is a state operator; Mr. Docking, an employee of Bethlehem Steel Co.; and Dr. Cascario, a local dentist.

The Democrats opposing these three are: Quintus LaBar, unsuccessful in a similar bid for school director two years ago; Mrs. Shirley Matlock, the first woman in many years to seek a directorship; and Thomas Naylor. Mr. LaBar is a Bethlehem Steel Company policeman; Mrs. Matlock, a housewife and mother, and Mr. Naylor is an electrical inspector.

There is also a two-year term as school director to be filled.

Elwood Freeman, a textile worker, is the Republican candidate, and Merle Mabius, an insurance agent, is the Democratic candidate. Neither has previously served in any public office.

Control of the council is the goal in the contest for councilman in each of Bangor's four wards. At present, the council stands evenly divided—six Republicans to six Democrats. Five of the Democratic seats are being contested and one Republican seat. In the First Ward, John M. Buzzard, Republican, an employee of Schwartz Furniture Store, is being opposed by Ralph (Rex) Erdman, Democrat, a construction foreman for the Community Telephone Co. Mr. Buzzard is a former councilman, and now a member of the Board of Health. This is Mr. Erdman's first entrance in the field of politics.

In the Second Ward, two councilmen are to be elected. John Farleigh, Democrat and incumbent president of council, and Arthur Messenger, Democrat and another incumbent, will be opposed by Herman T. Snyder, Republican, and Kenneth Roberts, Republican. Mr. Farleigh is the Democratic Club steward and Mr. Messenger is a bookkeeper for the Flory Milling Company.

Mr. Snyder, a former bank teller and borough auditor, is employed by the Blue Ridge Textile Co., and Mr. Roberts is a grocer. Farleigh has served council for three terms of twelve years.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Andrew Karadontes

Big Wedding For Lucy Demetriou

Miss Lucy Anna Demetriou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miltyades K. Demetriou, 144, 77th St., North Bergen, N. J., and Chris Andrew Karadontes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Karadontes, 47 West Ruby Ave., Palisades Park, N. J., were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Greek Orthodox church, at Henry St. and Anderson Ave., Fairview, N. J. Rev. Theodore P. Theodoros, pastor of the church, was the officiating clergyman.

The Demetriou family resided in Stroudsburg for many years. The bride grew up here, was graduated from the Stroudsburg High School.

Four hundred friends and relatives, including a delegation from the Stroudsburgs, attended the wedding. The church had been decorated with white pom-poms and white gladioli. Bouquets of pom-poms were secured with white satin ribbons at the end of each pew and vandelabra flanked the altar.

Greek Orthodox ritual was used.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore imported Chantilly lace over nylon tulle, the neckline emphasized with embroidery and sequins. Her headpiece in Queen Elizabeth style was attached to a four-tier finger tip veil. The insertion in the front of the skirt was of plicated nylon tulle. Her train was three yards long with an insertion of nylon tulle in the back. She held three white orchids with falling streamers.

The maid of honor was Miss Stella Tingides of Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y., who wore a gown of teal blue with an off-shoulder velvet top. Her bodice and full skirt was of Mayfair tulle with scatter-rhinestones, and teal-blue velvet mitts. Her head piece was of teal-blue nylon tulle and velvet with scatter-rhinestones.

Among the six bridesmaids was Miss Doris Snyder of Stroudsburg. They all wore gowns of shrimp velvet and tulle. The two flower girls were in similar gowns of blue.

Ralph Stempone of Bangor was one of the six ushers and there was also a ringbearer and three junior ushers.

Mrs. M. K. Demetriou, mother of the bride, wore a full-length strapless gown with a stole in nylon tulle over sea-foam taffeta embroidered in sequins and pearls. Her hat was of matching nylon tulle. Her corsage was of orchids.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a full-length gown in dusty pink lace over taffeta with a matching hat of velvet leaves.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the bridal party and nearly 500 guests at the main ballroom of the Hotel New Yorker, Thirty Fourth Street and Eighth Avenue, New York, where a sumptuous banquet was served and a dance followed to the music of the Ted Coates orchestra. Among the honored guests was the Royal Greek Consul in New York, Christian A. Axelos.

In addition to being a graduate of the Stroudsburg High School, the bride attended one year at the American Academy in Larnaca, Island of Cyprus, while the family were sojourning in that British dominion. She has been employed recently as a dental assistant with Dr. Albert P. Ken

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Don't complain about the rain. Who was it that took the wind out of my sails when I was rejoicing in the glorious weather we had for week after week? Sure as I said "Isn't it a beautiful day", somebody was sure to answer, with a worried frown, "Oh but we need rain".

Well, now we've got rain, filling the wells, soaking down through the roots, seeping into the springs—and the cellars, and the car windows and into your shoes. And it's sort of ungrateful of us to start complaining after only five days of rain.

Only five days! Seems more like a couple of weeks since we started going around with wet feet and looking for a place to dry the clothes.

And there's the Halloween parade tonight, and the football games tomorrow, and Sunday everybody wants fair and bright. What we want and what we get are two far different things—and perhaps it's just as well.

After seeing what a tangle men can make of controllable things like traffic and international affairs, we ought to be thankful that they haven't been able to take on the weather, too.

Barrett Council Entertains GOP Candidates

Barrett—Local and county candidates were present for the meeting of the Barrett Township Council of Republican Women held on Wednesday night at the home of the president, Mrs. Sue Price, Canadensis. There were 35 members and friends present.

Mrs. Price read comments from the Pennsylvania Council's legislative letter and from a pamphlet prepared by the State Chamber of Commerce at Harrisburg on the four amendments to be voted upon at the November election and on the proposed referendum on a Constitutional Convention, which is also on the ballot.

Arguments for and against the referendum were presented, and members were asked to make deep and careful study of the matter before voting on it.

Local candidates were presented to the council including: Mrs. Martha Annear, inspector of elections; Mrs. Deborah Brush, tax collector; John Black, school director; Richard Price, Justice of the Peace. Candidates for county office introduced were: Joseph S. Price and D. W. Frankenhoff, associate judges; Frank Weller, county treasurer. All three county candidates spoke, pledging, if elected, to do all in their power to render the best possible service to the county.

Local candidates not able to be present for the meeting were listed.

During the business session, the Barrett Council voted to contribute $20 to the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women. Mrs. Lena Swaine, who had made a while shawl for the benefit of the council, auctioned it off with D. W. Frankenhoff as the winner.

The president reported on the birthday party at Hershey for President Eisenhower.

A social hour followed the meeting. Guests from Stroudsburg introduced included Mrs. Floyd Bachman, county vice chairman of the Republican Committee; Mrs. Russell Custard, former president of the Monroe Council of Republican Women and Mr. Custard, County Commissioner; Mr. W. Rake and Mrs. Rake, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weller and D. W. Frankenhoff.

Hostesses were Mrs. Raymond Price Sr., Mrs. Earl Thomas, Mrs. Marge Force, Mrs. Martha Annear, Mrs. Grace Peters, Mrs. Deborah Brush, Mrs. James Anderson, Mrs. Ruth Ford, Mrs. Mary Pasquini and Mrs. Naomi Riess.

Sliced ripe banana or grated apple may be folded into stiffly-beaten egg white that has been sweetened and flavored with a little lemon rind. Serve at once as a topping for white cake or pudding.

The following members were present: Mrs. Clyde Dietrich, Mrs. Jerome Blakeslee, Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Levergood, Mrs. Lilie Green, Mrs. Charles Hauck, Mrs. Charles Werkheiser, Mrs. Cleveland Kelper, Mrs. Boyd Titus and Mrs. Ernest Adams. Refreshments were served. The charge prayer meeting of the congregation was held in the church in the evening.

FIRST BIRTHDAY PARTY— for 15-year-old Gisela Weyanz was given by her aunt, Mrs. Willy Otto. Gisela came to this country from Germany, in 1952.

Classmates Celebrate Birthday Here

Tannersville — Gisela Weyanz, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Willy Otto, celebrated her 15th birthday here Saturday, her second in this country and her first real natal celebration.

The eighth grade student in Pocono Township school came here from Germany in 1952. Classmates Barbara James, Donna Lou Sand, Nancy Williams, Shirley Bitterman and Beverly Peechaska joined in the celebration. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Otto, Mrs. Jack London and son Stephen, and her mother, Mrs. J. A. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto's son, Pvt. Edmund Otto, home for his first furlough from the Army, also was present. He entered service in July and is stationed at Fort Dix, N. J.

Mrs. Custard Presides At Installation

Mrs. J. Russell Custard of East Stroudsburg RD, state chairman of membership of the northeast district of Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women, installed the new officers of the Wayne County Council of Republican Women at a banquet Wednesday night at Beech Lake Hotel.

Mrs. Ed Kinsman of Reesville is president of the council, with Mrs. Lester Burlein of Honesdale as first vice president; Mrs. Paul Campbell of Waymarth, second vice president; Mrs. Wilfred Frick, Angolis, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Frey, Beech Lake, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Jenkins, Honesdale, treasurer.

There were about 200 members present for the colorful ceremony Mrs. Custard organized the Wayne County group last year, and it is now one of the largest and most active in the region.

Mrs. Custard received a gift from the Council after the installation.

'Light Up-Dress Up' Band Drive

To spark the magazine campaign which the students at Stroudsburg High School are conducting for the benefits of their band uniform fund, a "Light Up the Town" night has been scheduled for next Wednesday night.

It will be a porch-light campaign in reverse, as groups of students armed with subscription material start a house to house canvass of the town. As they leave they will ask each householder to turn on his porch lights so that at the end of the one-night campaign the whole town will be lighted. Their slogan will be "Light Up the Town—Dress Up the Band".

This weather is just what we needed for Halloween. It's easy enough, at 5:30 on this dreary, dark afternoon, to picture witches riding through the air on broomsticks, black cats yawning to the moon, and skeletons doing the danc macabre. Nevertheless it's much more pleasant to have your thoughts diverted to Halloween by the little folks, waiting impatiently at our candy counter while their mothers invest in treats for the goblins who'll happen by. "Gee, your candy counter smells good," one had remarked yesterday, as he stood there sniffing contentedly. It does too... and why not? There isn't a perfume on the market that gives you the appetizing blend of caramel, vanilla, chocolate, freshly roasted coffee, and hot salted nuts. If all that could be captured in a bottle, "My Sin," "Arpeggio," and "Taboo" wouldn't stand a chance.

Harry Congdon Jr., of our men's department, got around faster yesterday than a revolving door. That's why it seemed so funny when he suggested that I light in one place long enough to get some work done.

"I happen to be making my rounds to look at all the new merchandise," I informed him, "and I'm learning something every minute. I know what that is, for instance—and I bet you don't."

Harry examined the object of our attentions and admitted that he didn't. It was of china with roses scattered over its sides, and it resembled a butter warmer perched on top of a teapot. Its handle was a one-sided affair that curved upright in the manner of a squirrel's tail.

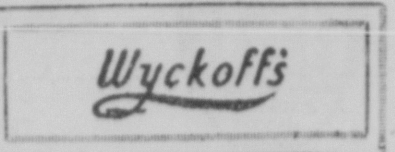

"No—you've got me," Harry admitted. "What is it?"

"A cream pitcher, naturally," I explained, "with a little round sugar bowl on top. The perfect size for an invalid's tray." Just between us, I couldn't have identified it myself if I hadn't questioned Marion Leedom a few minutes before. The price is $1.98, and it's as pretty a Christmas gift as you're apt to find for the money.

Every time one of our co-workers complains of headaches, sore throat, or an aching muscle, the rest of us cross our fingers and wonder what could possibly happen next. First on the store sick list was George Brockman, who injured his back a few weeks ago. Then, just this week, Frank Weller suffered a bout with the virus and unexpectedly joined George in the hospital. Now comes word that Sylvia Strunk of our hosiery department is spending part of her vacation at the same address.

Too bad, for all of them are good skaters, and deserve something better than shots in the arm, braces, and pills. Particularly does my sympathy go out to Frank. It wouldn't be so bad, staying in bed if one's mind could be at ease. But here he was, right in the middle of his campaign for county treasurer, when illness struck. The doctors say he'll be up and about in a very short time, and we hope so. If the friendly good wishes of the store family could help, they'd all be back on their feet in nothing flat.

Elsie Miller tells me she personally tried out the new pogo sticks being sold in our toy department. "They have a powerful spring," she says, "and I'm the girl who should know." I hope Elsie will take heed of the paragraphs directly above and not get too frisky before Christmas... but if she must take another toy ride, I hope I'm there to see it.

Hallowe'en Parade Takes Place Here Tonight

Monday Night Scheduled As Rain Date

Eight hopeful males surrounded by their "harems" will be among the hundreds participating in tonight's annual twin-borough Hallowe'en parade scheduled to move from East Stroudsburg High School at 7 p.m.

The "hopefuls" are candidates for the title of sultan in the Junior Woman's Club-sponsored Follies which will be staged Nov. 12 and 13 in Stroudsburg High School auditorium.

In the event of rain tonight the parade will be held Monday at 7 p.m., according to Arthur Widmer, committee member.

Stroudsburg merchants are playing hosts to tonight's promenade which features six bands. Total of $400 in prizes will be awarded by Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg merchants after the parade in front of The Daily Record office.

Marchers will receive numbers at East Stroudsburg High School where units and floats will line up. The parade moves on N. Courtland St. to Crystal St., then on Washington St. and across the inter-borough bridge.

Entering Stroudsburg the masqueraders will pass the judges' stand at Wyckoff's Department Store where members of the Junior Woman's Club will be seated to pick the best costumes.

The line of march turns north at Main on Eighth and travels east on Monroe St. to the Court House Square where the parade ends.

Hal Harris, Stroudsburg's chief burgess and Harold Wiggins, acting burgess of East Stroudsburg will head the parade as marshals. Police of both boroughs and State troopers also will be at the head of the marchers.

Bands scheduled to parade are East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High Schools, the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, Middle Smithfield and Smithfield School bands.

Sultan candidates, selected from eight local male clubs, will ride in one parade accompanied by members of their clubs who will don feminine costumes to represent "ladies of the harem."

As the parade passes through both boroughs delegated sultan aides will "pass the hat" hoping for heavy contributions by the end of the line to propel their club's candidate into the sultan's throne opening night of the Follies.

Mrs. James Cummings, Junior Woman's Club president explained last night voting for sultans will continue until intermission on opening night of the Follies when the victor will be revealed and brought to the stage. His collections will then revert to his club's treasury, Mrs. Cummings said.

Pastor Accepts Call To Serve York Church

Rev. Russell R. Adams, pastor of the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist church for the past five years, has accepted a call to become pastor of the York, Pa. Adventist Church, it was announced here yesterday.

The local clergyman is scheduled to present his farewell sermon here tomorrow morning, and will leave shortly thereafter for his new charge. It is expected that he will take up his new duties the first weekend in November.

Announcement has been to the local congregation concerning the transfer of the local cleric by the East Pennsylvania Conference of Adventists.

The change was revealed to the local church elder, Charles Loney, in a letter from T. E. Unruh, Reading, president of the East Pennsylvania Conference of Adventists.

A graduate of the Washington Missionary College, an Adventist School, the 33-year-old pastor has been responsible for making marked strides for the local Adventist Church group. He has served as pastor of the Easton church in addition to his local responsibilities.

A new structure now being completed at Easton was constructed during his ministry during the past two years. Many improvements were made at the local church on N. Second St. during his term of service here.

Born in Roanoke, Va., Pastor Adams attended elementary schools there. In 1942 he entered the Washington, D. C. college where he graduated with B. A. degree in theology in 1947. He entered the employ of the East Pennsylvania Conference early in 1948 and served his first pastorate in Tunkhannock. He then was transferred here.

A farewell program was held in honor of Pastor and Mrs. Adams. Members expressed regret at the sudden change and wished their minister "God's richest blessing." In addition to being pastor of the York church he will also be minister of a smaller church at Hanover, about 13 miles from York.

Under his local leadership the Adventist Church has enjoyed a steady growth. The Doreas Welfare Society group has been unusually active. The local church elementary school has been revived and is operating smoothly at the church. Many other improvements have been noted during the past five years.

Pastor and Mrs. Adams have two children, Bernard, 10, and Elizabeth, 1. Bernard will enroll at the York elementary school soon after the family relocates.

Announcement of the new pastor for the local church is expected to be made in the near future.

A Hallowe'en masquerade party will be held on Oct. 30 at the Tobyhanna Township High School. Everyone is invited.

Bangor High Gridders Play Host To Nazareth Foe Tonight

Slaters Hope To Keep Title Hopes Alive

Bangor—Bangor and Nazareth High schools clash in one of the biggest Lehigh-Northampton League football games of the current campaign here at Memorial Park today. The kickoff is scheduled to take place at 8 p.m., before one of the largest crowds of the season.

Nazareth has run up three straight victories against circuit opposition, while Bangor has lost only one league outing in three tussles thus far in the campaign. On the overall records Nazareth has won four and lost one game, while Bangor has won four and lost two contests.

The Blue Eagles opened the season with a win over Nesquehoning and then bowed to Whitehall. Since that time Nazareth has won over Hellertown, Coplay and Pen Argyl, all league foes.

Bangor launched the season with verdicts over Palmerton and Cataqua and East Stroudsburg, then fell before Wilson and Stroudsburg, before bouncing back with a win over Coplay last weekend. The Slaters still have a chance in the Lehigh-Northampton League championship fight.

Both schools are alive with spirit for tonight's struggle. Students in each school have displayed many posters and in general are feeling the importance of tonight's contest.

Satisfied

Coach Granville Evans is reportedly pleased with the work of his pupils during the past week, which was spent in hard work in preparation for the invasion of Bangor by Nazareth. Yesterday, due to the rain, was the first day this week that the Slaters took part in a light workout. Everything else has been of the rough variety.

Yesterday Bangor took part in a skill practice and then walked through defensive and offensive alignments in the gymnasium.

Evans announced following yesterday's drill that he would stick with his regular lineup, although he voiced concern over Ralph "Barney" Stenlake, regular tackle, who is currently bothered with a bruised leg muscle.

Defensively Al "Bucky" Parsons will take over at end for Duane Miller, who in turn will replace Finelli in the backfield. Ray Heaney, 250-pound guard, will take over for Martocci, while LaBar plays safety and Rodney Miller handles the other defensive halfback post. DeVito and Cotturo will back up the line.

Bangor will be out to avenge a 7-0 loss at the hands of Nazareth last season. The Slaters have won nine games in the series and Nazareth 12. The two teams have battled to five deadlocks.

Determined Wins In Near Record Time

Albany, Calif. (AP)—Determined, a grey colt by Alibhai, raced the third fastest mile ever run in the United States by a two-year-old in winning the one mile $15,000 added San Francisco Handicap yesterday.

Veteran Johnny Longden was aboard the winner in the closing day feature race at Golden Gate Fields.

Determined's time was 1:35.3-5. The record is 1:34.4-5, set by Count Fleet, also with Longden up, at Belmont Park October 10, 1942. In 1941 at Belmont Alsab was clocked in 1:35.2-5.

Second

Ole Travis ran second, two and one-half lengths back. War Trust, a stable mate of Determined, brought up third place in a photo finish.

Willie Shoemaker, the nation's leading rider, was fourth on Lady Cover Up, "Wee Willie," who set the current world's record of 412 winners in a season at the Golden Gate meeting, was shut out of the winners circle yesterday, but managed three second places.

Pitt Names Squad For Trip
Pittsburgh, (AP)—Coach Lowell "Red" Dawson of the University of Pittsburgh yesterday named 26 players for the air trip to Minneapolis today, but said former left half Billy Hoffman will be left behind.

Demotion

Hoffman was a regular last year as a sophomore and started in the opener against West Virginia. The Pitt team will rehearse in Minneapolis before playing Minnesota there Saturday.

Leahy Agrees To Watch Irish Battle Navy On Television

South Bend, Ind. (AP)—Ailing Frank Leahy will entrust his unbeaten Notre Dame football team to a "3-D" coaching platoon against Navy's once-defeated Midlides here tomorrow.

Leahy, who collapsed during the Irish triumph over Georgia Tech last Saturday, yesterday reluctantly agreed to watch his team play Navy over television at his home in nearby Long Beach, Ind.

The Irish, number one in the national Associated Press poll, seek their fifth victory. Joe McCardle, Bill Early and Bob McBride will direct the Irish from the bench with McCardle the "senior coach."

Lookouts

Two former Irish stars, now assistants, will be the "eyes" of the bench trio. Johnny Lujack, former All America quarterback, will be in the press box, phoning instructions. Terry Brennan, brilliant halfback of the late 1940s, will be on a phone peering out of a scoreboard hole at one end of the field.

It was this "third dimensional" coaching aid believed to have helped Notre Dame's crushing first period assault against Georgia Tech last week. Tech was ripped to shreds between the tackles through gaps not apparent from the press box.

Bullets Keep Record Clean

Bangor—The Bullets battled to their fourth victory without a defeat in the Bangor High intramural basketball league yesterday by scoring a 26-21 victory over the Warriors. It was the third loss in five outings for the Warriors.

Top Scorer

Frank Butz racked up 14 points for the winning club in a game that featured five-minute quarters.

Davidson Triumphs

Detroit, (AP)—Heavyweight Embriel Davidson of Detroit scored an impressive second round knockout over John Holman of Chicago in their scheduled eight round bout at the Motor City Arena last night.

College Grid Crowds Show Slight Decline

New York, (AP)—Football attendance at major college games fell off a bit during the first half of the 1953 season, but the Ivy League, the Border Conference and two of the South's three major leagues showed there's nothing wrong that a few rousing games and aroused alumni can't cure.

The Ivy group admittedly doesn't produce the best football in the world and it counts on the "family" attendance of old grads, students and their friends and relatives to fill the stadium seats.

The eight Ivy schools have played 27 games so far and have had an average attendance of 23,873. That's just 1,000 a game more than the figure of 28 games at the same stage of the 1952 season—or an increase of 4.37 per cent.

The seven-school Border Conference in 23 games has shown a 4.48 per cent improvement over last year's attendance figures with an average of 10,482 per game.

Others

The Southern and Southeastern Conferences were the only other major groups to turn in improved attendance figures for the mid-season Associated Press survey. The Southern, minus seven members which dropped out to form the Atlantic Conference, is up 1.18 per cent in attendance while crowds at Southeastern Conference games have increased by 0.79 per cent.

The Atlantic Coast Conference colleges, which felt they had outstripped the other members of the old league, haven't been doing as well as usual. Due in part to the losses at North Carolina, where the effects of a couple of bad seasons are being felt, attendance for this group is down more than 10 per cent.

The figures reveal that the members of eleven major conferences, plus 14 "major" independents, have played fewer games so far than they had at this time a year ago.

Last year in 324 games, the teams drew 7,800,850 spectators, an average of 24,077 per game. This year they have played to 7,168,514 in 308 games, for a 23,274 average just 803 fewer per game.

Norkus Gains Nod Over Daniels

In a co-feature eight, Emmett Norris, 158, Steelton, Pa., outpointed Willie "Kid" Johnson, 150, Orange.

Honochick Guest Speaker For Blue Mountain League Banquet

Bangor—George James "Jim" Honochick, well known American League baseball umpire, will be the guest speaker at the annual Blue Mountain League banquet to be held Wednesday, November 18, it was announced here yesterday by Armon M. Williams, circuit secretary.

PGANames Hogan 'Golfer Of Year'

Chicago, (AP)—Ben Hogan yesterday won by an overwhelming margin the PGA honor as "Professional Golfer of the Year."

Hogan, winning the award for the fourth time, was named on a record-breaking 803 ballots from PGA members and the nation's sports writers. He had a 748 plurality over his nearest rival, Lew Worsham.

Next In Line

Worsham, who holed an eagle two wedge shot to win the Tam O'Shanter "World" title, and a $25,000 check, was mentioned on 55 ballots in the poll. Walter Burkemo, 1953 PGA titlist, was third with 22 votes.

The award capped the 41-year-old Hogan's sensational season of record-shattering performances in the Masters and British Open and his equally brilliant conquest in the United States Open.

Pie King Becomes Ill

Camden, N.J. (AP)—The Pie King, British two-year-old champion, came down with a case of equine "athlete's foot" yesterday and appeared a doubtful starter in the world's richest horse race—the $266,000 Garden State Stakes tomorrow.

Co-owner Elwood Johnston said The Pie King had developed a hoof condition roughly equivalent to athlete's foot in a human. He said the condition had been aggravated by the rainy weather and a slight infection since the horse arrived here to train for the big race.

Examination

Johnston said Dr. William Miller, a veterinarian called in to examine the British thoroughbred, assured him The Pie King would be ready tomorrow. However, Johnston said he and Ray Bell, the horse's other owner, would withhold their final decision until a further examination is made today.

The banquet, open to players, officials and wives of each of the six teams, will be held at the Tatamy Fire House.

Honochick, now a resident of Allentown, is well known in the baseball profession and is a much sought after banquet speaker in the off-season.

The American League arbitrator is 36 years of age and was born in Oneida, Pa., on August 19, 1917. He is six feet, one inch tall and weighs 210 pounds, and enjoys reading and sports as his hobbies.

Education

Honochick attended New Mexico Military Institute, Roswell, N. M., in 1935, but was graduated from Temple University in 1940, with a bachelor of science degree.

Jim was an active player before turning to umpiring. He patrolled the outfield for Baltimore, of the International League, from 1941 through 1946, except for one year of retirement and two of military service. He threw and batted right handed.

Honochick began his umpiring career in the class "D" Eastern Shore League in 1947 and moved to the International League in 1948 and the American League in 1949. He umpired in the World Series in 1952 and the All-Star game in 1951.

He was married to the former Miss Anita C. Renes on October 26, 1946.

Safe Bet Sloshes To Surprise Win

Cleveland, (AP)—Safe Bet, a 147 to one shoe, sloshed past the leaders in the stretch yesterday to win the ninth race at muddy Thistle Down track and pay the longest price in any Ohio race this year.

Bay Mare

The eight-year-old bay mare, owned by E. Woodhouse and piloted by Albert Florio, paid $205.20 to win, $78 to place and $26.60 to show. She won going away, a full length ahead of second place Bad News.

Araujo Out To Turn Tables On Davis

New York, (AP)—George Araujo starts all over again tonight in the same ring where he was knocked out by Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter in his ill-fated title bid.

Araujo, a newlywed, gets no soft touch in his Madison Square Garden return. He is matched with Teddy "Red Top" Davis of Hartford, who beat him in 10 rounds at Boston September 10.

The 10-round bout, scheduled for 10 p.m. (EST) will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC) coast to coast.

Memory

The memory of Araujo's failure against a stronger champion, June 12, still is fresh. Carter knocked him down three times, prompting Referee Al Berli to stop the fight.

Despite this defeat and his upset by Davis, who is ranked number two among the challengers in the featherweight division, Araujo is favored tonight.

On his way to the title bout, Araujo shipped Davis at Cleveland, March 25. It was his first tuneup for the Carter disaster. Since the Carter fight, he has been out only once—against Davis.

Life of Riley

Eight deadlocks, including the 7-7 tie between Stroudsburg and Whitehall, didn't help this column's percentage in picking grid winners and losers, and neither did our near miss call of East Stroudsburg over Wilson, as the latter turned in a 12-7 victory. There was also a multitude of upsets on the national front that sent this scribe in search of shelter. Last week's mark of 41 correct calls and 29 of the wrong variety brought the season's mark to 259 correct and 91 wrong calls. The slumping percentage at the present time is .740.

This week's local schedule doesn't seem to be as tough as it was this time last Friday, but Coplay, Catasauqua and Ithaca College are just the type of teams that could send a successful campaign in line, unless the Monroe County forces stay in line. Believing that the local forces will be in line, this column picks East Stroudsburg over Coplay, Stroudsburg over Catasauqua, and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College over Ithaca. The college game is the only one listed for the home front, as the Cavaliers and Mountaineers play on foreign soil this weekend.

The only game that should be tough—there we go with that paper talk again—is tonight's Bangor-Nazareth clash, at Bangor. The Slaters can keep their faint tie hopes alive with a win, but Nazareth is also in high gear with a winning streak of three straight games. Nazareth is undefeated against circuit opposition, but I still can't help admiring Bangor's running game. On a flip of the coin I'll bring along with the Slaters to put the first black mark on Nazareth's Lehigh-Northampton League slate.

On the national front it looks like improving Army will nip Tulane, but the Green Wave could very easily make us look bad with this choice. Tulane hasn't been setting the world on fire this year, but according to reports the Wave is stronger than its record would indicate. Boston College should trounce Richmond, while Boston University shades Marquette in a close game and Princeton decisions Brown in another close encounter. Bucknell will down Lehigh, Colgate will edge Rutgers, while Columbia nips Cornell and Yale takes the measure of Dartmouth. Fordham will pass to victory over Miami, Fla., Harvard will swamp Davidson and Holy Cross is this column's pick to return to the win column over Syracuse, in another good contest.

Lafayette will continue to roll against Franklin and Marshall, Notre Dame will inflict a second straight loss on Navy, while Michigan regains its winning form against Penn and West Virginia rates a third nod over Penn State. Minnesota rates a choice over Pittsburgh, Bainbridge will trample Temple and Cincinnati will take the measure of Dayton. Drake will edge Bradley and Illinois will down Purdue. The Butler Malers can't pull two straight earth-shattering upsets such as the one against Michigan State.

Indiana will edge Missouri, Wisconsin looks like a winner over Iowa and Colorado appears strong enough to nip Iowa State, while Nebraska downs Kansas and Oklahoma takes the measure of Kansas State. Michigan State will regain its winning form against Oregon State, Ohio State will decision Northwestern in a rough battle and Oklahoma A and M will nip Tulsa. Georgia will down Alabama, while Auburn edges Florida, Louisville takes the measure of Chattanooga and VPI rolls over The Citadel. Wake Forest rates the edge over Clemson, Duke will shade Virginia, Furman will upend Wofford and George Washington will down Washington and Lee.

Georgia Tech will easily defeat Vanderbilt, Rice will edge Kentucky, Louisiana State will bow to Mississippi and Maryland and Mary will defeat North Carolina State and VMI is too strong for Florida State. Texas A and M will regain its winning form against Arkansas, Baylor and Southern Methodist will just nip Texas, possibly by one point. Arizona appears too strong for West Texas State, Wyoming looks like a sure thing against Brigham Young and New Mexico rates the nod over Denver.

Washington will roll over Utah, Montana will nip Utah State and UCLA will take the measure of California in a very good football game. Idaho State appears strong enough to decide Montana State, while Southern California runs wild over Oregon and San Jose State beats North Texas State. Stanford will have little trouble with Washington State in the last, but far from least, game on the Pacific Coast slate.

Football season is now in the home stretch, where every game can mean the difference between receiving and not receiving a bowl bid. It is also the time of year during which high school teams battling for a championship must keep both feet on the ground.

East Stroudsburg Junior High Meets Lehighton Today

Cavaliers Search For Initial Win

East Stroudsburg Junior High school will attempt to win its initial football game of the season today when the charges of Coach Mike Evans plays host to Lehighton Junior High, at Memorial Stadium. The kickoff is slated to take place at 3:30 p.m.

The Cavaliers have suffered two defeats at the hands of Hacketts-town, and one each against Whitehall and Lehighton. The Lehighton reversal occurred in an earlier meeting of the two teams this season.

East Stroudsburg's initial clash with Lehighton was played on the winning contingent's home field, in the first part of a home-and-home series.

Coach Mike Evans is expected to stick with the same lineup that has carried the bulk of the load for the Cavaliers this season.

This means that Bob Herman will handle the left end duties, while Al Smith is at left tackle; Jim Kolcum, left guard; Wesley Werkheiser, center; Bill Smith, right guard; John Smith, right tackle; Ronald Mursch, right end; Dale Meizgar, quarterback; Dave Heckman, left halfback; Carl Smith, right halfback, and LeRoy LaBar, fullback.

Dick Miller is also expected to see plenty of action in the East Stroudsburg backfield. The Cavaliers will have one more football game remaining on this season's schedule following today's action. The final contest will be played against Whitehall, on the latter's home field.

Legion Auxiliary Keglers To Roll

American Legion Auxiliary keggers will roll on the George N. Kemp Post alleys today.

Surgery Listed On Mantle's Knee

New York (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankees' center-fielder, will undergo an operation on his right knee next Monday at Springfield, Mo.

Mantle pulled a cartilage in his right knee in the second game of the 1951 World Series and was out for the rest of the series.

Johnson Back At Split Rock

Split Rock—Gosta "Johnnie" Johnson has returned to his post as sports director of Split Rock Lodge following a six-months leave of absence, it was announced this week by William D. Hermann, resident manager.

Johnson was a member of the Lodge staff for four and a half years before accepting a temporary position last Spring as manager of Redstone Inn, Colorado. Since his return he has been conducting a diversified program of Fall sports and entertainment at the year-round resort and sports center in the Pennsylvania Poconos.

A native of Sweden, Johnson serves as director of Big Boulder Ski School during the winter months. The Big Boulder ski area, operated by Split Rock Lodge, is a rendezvous for skiing enthusiasts from the Middle Atlantic states.

Big Boulder is annually the scene of some of the best skiing in the Pocono Mountains.

Three Seniors To Complete Collegiate Grid Careers With Ithaca College Against ESSTC

Ithaca, N. Y.—With three seniors playing their final game, the Ithaca College gridgers will end their schedule at 2 p. m. Saturday at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

Both teams lost last weekend, Ithaca to Alfred 41-6 and East Stroudsburg to West Chester 16-6. The local Bombers can end the season with a .500 percentage by knocking off the Pennsylvanians.

Thurman Boddie, left end and Co-Captain Paul "Red" Thomann, right tackle, both of Rochester, and Joe Olszewski of Lancaster, right guard, are prospective starters Saturday who will be wearing an Ithaca football uniform for the last time. Thomann and Olszewski have had four seasons of varsity football.

Coach Joe Hamilton plans to start the same lineup as the one used against Alfred. In that game the Ithacans registered 10 first downs to Alfred's 14, and had a defense that held Alfred to two pass completions good for 38 yards in 12 attempts. But Alfred's superior speed, drive, and man power was visible on the ground where it ran up 186 yards, and its defense was superb. At the same time Ithaca completed 14 of 34 passes for 297 yards.

To keep his small squad in physical condition, Hamilton has been sending his men through light contact drills while polishing his offense, and defending against ESSTC's short punt formation plays.

Bill Graney of Dobbs Ferry, a 190-pound freshman, is working out well at fullback since Tom LaPlaca left for Army service. John Wintermute of Ithaca, a six-foot freshman end, is being used more each game.

Robinson Decides Not To Try Ring Comeback Despite Talk

Washington, (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson said yesterday he has quit the ring for good. "I'll never fight again," the ex-champion said, scotching reports that he was weighing an offer to challenge "Babe" Olson, the middleweight titleholder.

Commercial 'C' To Roll

Commercial "C" League action will consist of three matches at Harmon's Recreation today, at 9:15 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Lanternman's Funeral Home vs. Cole's Drug Store.

Alleys three and four—Worthington Mower vs. Cream-ee Ice Cream.

Alleys five and six—Tru-Matic vs. Regina Hotel.

Nicholson Retires From Major Leagues

Philadelphia, (AP)—The Big Swish retired yesterday. Bill Nicholson called it quits after 15 years of major league baseball highlighted by such feats as hitting four home runs in four straight times at bat.

The 33-year-old Nicholson is known to baseball fans everywhere as "Swish". Whenever Nicholson came to bat, the fans chanted that nickname as Big Bill whipped his bat back and forth, formidably awaiting a pitch.

Tough Many hurlers will tell you that no batter ever looked as tough as the plate as Big Nick.

Bob Carpenter, president of the Philadelphia Phillies, hosted a farewell luncheon yesterday. He said "Nick isn't just another ball player quitting the game. He was a great ball player, a credit to the game."

Pro Cagers Open Season

Milwaukee, (AP)—The Milwaukee Lakers, who want to stay where they usually are—on top, meet the Milwaukee Hawks, who have no place to go except up, in the National Basketball Association season's opener tonight at the Milwaukee Arena.

Choice The Lakers, champions five of the last six years, have been picked by coaches to repeat in the Western Division. In the same poll, conducted by the Minneapolis Star, Milwaukee was consigned to last place, where the Hawks finished last season.

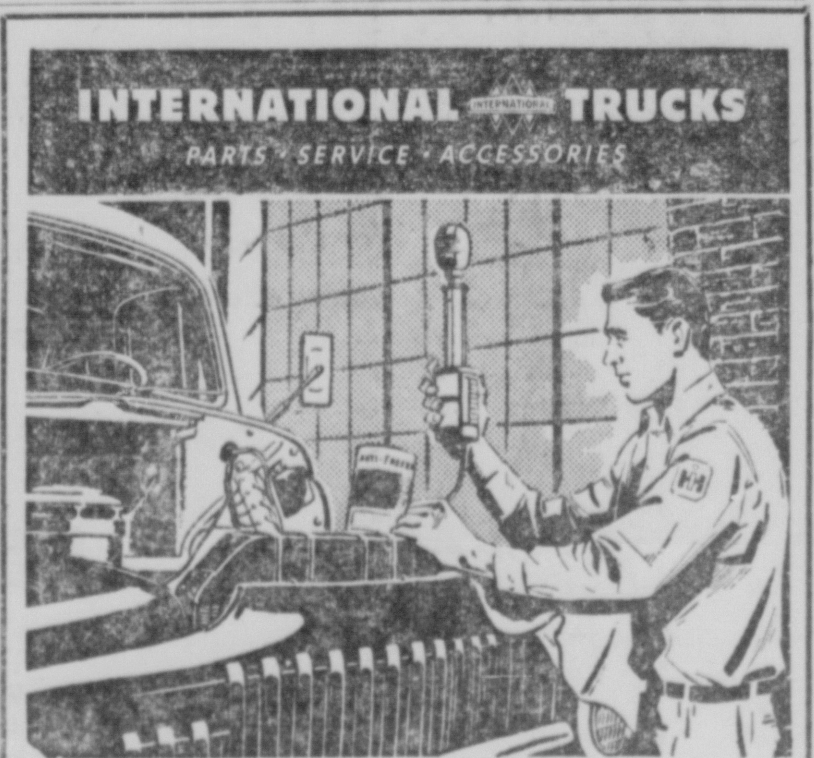

Slow Motion Drill

State College (AP)—Coach "Rip" Engle put his Nittany Lions through their assignments slow motion style yesterday in preparation for Penn State's football game tomorrow with unbeaten West Virginia.

WITCHES AND JACK-O'-LANTERNS

TO YOUNGSTERS like Connie Burt and Larry Doty, the last day of October means the time for hobbing for apples, carving jack-o'-lanterns, wearing masks and costumes and doing such mischievous tricks as waxing windows and overturning garbage cans. It's Hallowe'en—the night when the witches scour the skies on their brooms and the goblins get you when you don't watch out. These youngsters don't care how the custom got started—they're only glad it's here. But, if they did investigate, they would find out that, long before the Christian era began, Hallowe'en was celebrated by the ancient Druids, a religious order in Gaul (France), Britain and Ireland. The Druids believed that certain wicked souls were called together on Hallowe'en by Saman, the lord of death. Two marks of ancient Hallowe'en were bonfires and the belief it was the night that witches wander abroad. This celebration is a far cry from the happy time that youngsters have today whether in Concord, N. H., where these kids live, or somewhere else.

While crunching through fallen leaves, this young lady eyes a fence she may help "decorate" later on Hallowe'en.

Ducklode To Exhibit Windsor Reproductions In Philadelphia

By James B. Gaffney

Frederick Ducklode and Bros., Inc., Portland and Stroudsburg, will exhibit their entire line of Windsor reproductions at the Bellevue-Stratford, Philadelphia, next week.

The firm's history of furniture manufacture dates back to 1859. Philadelphia Antiques Fair starts Monday and continues through Thursday.

Officers of the corporation are Frederick Ducklode, president; Norman Ducklode, secretary; and Howard Ducklode, treasurer.

Neighboring Wayne County made a rapid step forward in the value of industrial production, according to a report this week from the office of William S. Livengood Jr., secretary of internal affairs, Harrisburg.

Data compiled by the bureau of statistics shows an increase from $18,922,000 in 1951 to $23,198,300 last year. Wages and salaries paid advanced from $5,004,900 to $5,956,300 and number of employees increased from 2,742 to 2,906.

There were 77 establishments filing reports in 1951 and 78 last year with the capital invested also augmented from $3,638,300 to $3,865,400.

Harry Elsenberger Chosen As Sultan Candidate By Veterans Of Foreign Wars

The VFW candidate for sultan of the "Follies of '53" is Harry Elsenberger, 610 King St., Stroudsburg. Mr. Elsenberger has completed 14 years of Army service, most of it with Company G, 109th Infantry Regiment, 28th Division. He was discharged as a master sergeant.

At present, he is officer of the day in Thomas Lambert Post 2450, VFW. He is a past president of the Eagles Club.

The local Veterans of Foreign Wars supports many welfare projects, both on a national and local level. The chief national project is support of the VFW Widows and Orphans Home, located in Eaton Rapids, Mich. They provide the home for the widows and orphans of members, where they live in cottages.

They furnish their own schools there for the children from elementary through high school. In addition, they provide college education for children or job placement when they have completed high school.

On the state scene, they make monetary contributions and small gifts to the Scotland Orphans Home. This home was established to care for war orphans in Pennsylvania.

Locally, they furnish baskets and gifts to needy families at Christmas. The local VFW has also supported the blood donor program. They have the bloodmobile at the home twice a year. At present, they are working on an athletic program for the youth of the community.

Another important phase of their work has been to act as intermediaries with the V. A. for their members.

Russia's Refusal To Help Polish Underground Started Cold War, Says Churchill

New York, (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill says the cold war began before the shooting war ended with Russia's refusal to give immediate aid to Warsaw underground fighters being wiped out by the Germans.

With Russian troops less than 10 miles away, the Polish underground in Warsaw began Aug. 1, 1944, a battle to seize the city from the Germans. The Germans turned derelict, which pleaded for supplies from the Allies.

Sir Winston says Premier Stalin refused the use of Russian air bases to Allied planes dropping supplies to the underground, which also appealed for Russian aid. A joint appeal by Sir Winston and the late President Roosevelt brought this reply from Stalin:

"Sooner or later the truth about the group of criminals who have embarked on the Warsaw adventure in order to seize power will become known to everybody. These people have exploited the good faith of the inhabitants of Warsaw, throwing many almost unarmed people against the German guns, tanks and aircraft."

Sir Winston tells of these events in Life magazine, which is publishing the second installment of "Triumph and Tragedy," the sixth and final volume of his Nobel Prize-winning memoirs.

"On Sept. 10, after six weeks of Polish torment, the Kremlin appeared to change their tactics," Sir Winston says.

"That afternoon shells from the Soviet artillery began to fall upon the eastern outskirts of Warsaw, and Soviet planes appeared again over the city. Polish Communist forces, under Soviet orders, fought their way into the fringe of the capital."

"They wished to have the non-Communist Poles destroyed to the full, but also to keep alive the idea that they were going to their rescue. Meanwhile, house by house the Germans proceeded with their liquidation of Polish centers of resistance throughout the city. A fearful fate befell the population. Many were deported by the Germans. Out of a population of a million nearly 200,000 had been stricken."

"When the Russians entered the city on Jan. 17, they found little but shattered streets and the unburied dead. Such was their liberation of Poland, where they now rule."

Sir Winston says Poland's fate "struck us keenly," adding: "For Poland we had entered the war; her government had taken refuge in London, and we considered ourselves responsible for its restoration to its own country, if that was what the Poles really wished."

"In the main these feelings were shared by the United States, but they were very slow in realizing the upsurge of Communist influence, which slid on before, as well as followed, the onward march of the mighty armies directed from

Rotary Names Anderson To Enter Contest

Gerald M. Anderson, 771 Bryant St., Stroudsburg, is the Rotary Club's candidate for sultan of the "Follies of '53," which is being presented on Nov. 12 and 13 by the Stroudsburg Junior Woman's Club. Mr. Anderson is vice-president of the Stroudsburg Security Trust Co. He is a past president of the Stroudsburg Rotary Club.

The Stroudsburg Rotary Club has been active in many projects in this community. Many remember that it was Rotary that conducted the first March of Dimes drive in Stroudsburg, and they have led this activity several years since that first time. They also organized the Monroe County Crippled Children Association and ran this organization for a number of years.

Another "first" for the Rotary Club is Little League Baseball in Stroudsburg. Several years ago, they organized this project locally, and all who have followed the activity are acquainted with the benefits that boys of the community have derived from participation in this program.

Another of their outstanding projects has been the establishment of a student fund through which they have aided many boys and girls to attend college.

While a great portion of their activities center around local welfare work, they have also cooperated with and supported other outside activities. During the war, Rotary Club organized and ran drives to collect old clothing to be used by war refugees.

Rotarians will conduct their voting for candidate Anderson at their club meetings.

Churches Modify Opposition To Dancing, Card Playing; Create Positive Programs

By George W. Cornell

New York. (AP)—Oldtime religious disapproval of ballroom dancing and card playing isn't what it used to be in many churches today.

The opposition generally has modified, denominational leaders say. New community conditions have brought new approaches.

Although the attitude varies from church to church, comments from denominational officials shows most major religious bodies incline toward a more flexible view.

"We don't regard these things as either a means of salvation or a means of damnation," said Dr. Douglas Horton, executive secretary of the Congregational Christian Churches.

"It's undoubtedly true that the general attitude is less rigid than it once was."

Like numerous other denominational officials, he suggested the more moderate tendency has resulted from changes in environment and associations attached to these diversions rather than from any change in principle.

Moreover, said Dr. Ralph Stoddy, information director of the Methodist Church, "there is much more positive preaching nowadays, and less of the negative type."

"The whole trend for youth leaders in the church is not so much to say 'Thou shalt not' as to create positive healthful programs of recreation as a part of church life."

Not long ago, dances in church halls were considered daring rarities. Now they're commonplace, though not customary. Many church groups, particularly women have their bridge clubs.

While fewer church bodies officially frown on such activities, many individual clergymen do. The whole church accent is on restraint. Tied in with opposition to gambling, there's still considerable church suspicion of regular playing cards, the kind used in a poker game. But fewer nowadays link the two.

The overall situation represents a contrast to a generation ago, when such activities were widely denounced from the pulpit. Books of that era, by ministers of various faiths, denounced card playing as the "gateway to Hell" and dancing as the "training school for prostitution."

Back at the turn of the century, Catholic bishops of the country called dancing "revolting" and "fraught with the greatest dangers to morals." Up to 1924, a Methodist could be expelled from church for dancing or going to the theater.

In contrast to the past, there's been no official expression in re-

Annual Service Set Dec. 27 At St. John's

Tentative plans for the annual Christmas service of the St. John's Lutheran Church School were made Wednesday night at the monthly meeting of officers and teachers. The program will be presented on Sunday night, Dec. 27.

Mrs. Richard Lindroth and Mrs. H. L. Keiper Jr. were elected regular teachers. Mrs. Henry Tucker, after serving many years as teacher, was named teacher-emeritus of the school and Mrs. Richard Miller was elected a substitute teacher.

A report was presented on the proposed furnishings for the school and announcement made that a committee will visit the manufacturer on Thursday to select the type furniture to be secured. An additional donation was made toward the cost of the new unit that is being constructed.

It is estimated that the average American is 16 pounds overweight.

BILLY WALSH, 6, of Baldwin, N. Y., and Retha McIntosh, 5, of Yonkers, N. Y., are "treating" a patient, using the outfits that make them doctor and nurse from the 1953 pack Santa Claus will distribute. The outfits are part of the vast collection of toys exhibited in New York by the Toy Manufacturers of the United States of America.

Delaware Water Gap

Mrs. M. E. Leffler was honored on her 70th birthday Tuesday by a family dinner party. Present were her sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. J. Martin, of New York City; Miss Nora Leffler, husband of the celebrant. A wealth of flowers, cards and gifts gladdened the day, and flowers were still arriving for Mrs. Leffler on Wednesday.

The last letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes from their son Arthur, who is in the armed service, stated that he was stationed at Camp McGill in the northern part of Japan. He is a desk sergeant for the Military Police. Sgt. Barnes has signed up for service until 1956.

With Frank Decker presiding, the Water Gap Rod & Gun Club met Monday night at the firehall. Twenty-five members were present. They received two associate members, John Kulp and Jesse Kulp, of Stroudsburg; and one junior member, Charles G. LaBar, also of Stroudsburg. Election of officers put into office for the new year Frank Decker, reelected president; Harvey Hay Sr., 1st vice president; Frank Edinger, 2nd vice president; Arthur Barnes, reelected secretary; William Fisher, treasurer. The club ordered twelve dozen rabbits, to be released for hunting. The next meeting will be held the last Monday in November.

The Girl Scouts, at their meeting Wednesday afternoon, worked at preparing their rock display. Their specimen rocks will be tied to a masonite board and labeled. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Crossdale were among those who, attending the Founder's Day dinner of Lafayette College, Easton, were privileged to hear Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway address the alumni and Marguerite Higgins, war correspondent, speak to the wives. Mrs. Matthew B. Ridgway also was at the women's banquet.

Cards received from Rev. and Mrs. Harold Mohr, who spend their summers at their bungalow home in Wolf Hollow, show that their mission inspection tour had taken them to Nagoia, Japan, by Sept. 27. They had attended a three-day conference in Tokyo of "Kyodan," the United Christian Church of Japan.

Charles Bush returned Monday from a week's stay in Valley Stream, L. I., N. Y., where he visited his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bush, and their three children. Mr. Bush has supervision of the Water Gap dumping ground. This summer has been one of the busiest there with many more truck loads of refuse coming in each week, much of it because of the increased population of highway workers. The Water Gap citizens, who recall that spot as it was years ago, are grateful to Mr. Bush for his sanitary condition and for his efforts to exterminate the army of rats that usually live in such quarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Meixell, Miss Paula and Kathy Meixell, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pipher were in New Hope, N. J., Sunday a week ago to visit Mr. Meixell's grandmother, Mrs. David Smith. Mrs. Smith had spent the summer in Stroudsburg, returning to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Newhart, in September. She plans to be in the Stroudsburgs again next summer for her 90th birthday in July.

'Your Health'

From The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania and the Monroe County Medical Society

There is now a Hunt Safely Week and about time, too.

The return of the hunting season increases the threat of firearm accidents that takes a toll of more than 2,000 lives each year.

Tens of thousands of school boys and many adults facing their first hunting experience this fall are, this week, being taught safe firearms handling.

Rod and gun organizations, schools, newspapers and radio are joining the State Game Commission in an effort to prevent hunting firearm accidents.

Most of the hunting accidents are due to lack of gun training, reckless shooting due to indifference, and uncontrolled excitement when game is flushed.

Activities responsible for firearm fatalities in hunting include walking into the line of fire, the unintentional discharge of loaded guns when those carrying them trip, stumble, or handle the weapon carelessly; and hunters being mistaken for game.

Oddly, more hunters are killed by the guns of their own companions than by the members of other hunting parties.

At least four out of every five hunters reported killed are shot by members of their own group. More than ninety per cent of all firearm accident fatalities are among males, teenage boys frequently being the victims.

The highest death rate from such accidents is from age 15 to 19. Wildlife hunting can be an enjoyable beneficial sport.

Do You Know?

A. A. stands for Alcoholics Anonymous; A. A. refers to American Automobile Association; A. A. A. is the doctor's abbreviation for arteriosclerosis abdominal aortic aneurysm—which is a sac formed by the dilation of the walls of an artery and filled with blood.

The newborn infant is longer dependent on maternal care than the young of any other form of life.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1953

March 21 to April 20 (Aries). Friendly for home and family affairs; for new undertakings or expanding responsibility. But extreme care is advised in signing documents, agreements, etc.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus). Very opportune period. Make the most of your talents and capability now. Step forward with new ideas, new materials, equipment that can better the community, business, general interests.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini). Your Mercury's position now stresses the need for close scrutiny and caution in signing agreements and legal papers. But you and Venus favor personal affairs; getting ahead on your own.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer). Encouraging vibrations. A peak day with personal affairs topping the favored list. You should be able to make progress in your occupation, also in other fields for your talents.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo). Most potent day will probably come through careful, efficient management of matters under your direction. Financial transactions, solid business deals are sponsored. Finest an aid.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo). Suitable care urged in written matters, signing legal or other important papers. Otherwise day can be productive, generous in returns for sincere effort. The arts, study in favor.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra). Monetary gains can be made in progressive, new things, such as materials, equipment, improved tools, machinery, medicine. Do be careful how you accept business propositions; don't be stampeded.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio). Returns for your efforts may not be wholly satisfactory. Some minor, but consistent efficiency, wisdom in plan-

Luther League Votes Memorial To War Veteran

More than forty young people from St. John's Luther League and the Luther Leagues from the Hamilton Parish fellowshiped together in St. John's Lutheran Church on Wednesday night. The regular meeting was followed by a Halloween party in the social rooms.

During the business session of St. John's League it was decided to place the cross and candlesticks on the new altar in the new unit of the Parish House as a memorial to Robert McConnell, who made the supreme sacrifice in World War II in France. Before entering the service of his country, Robert was treasurer of St. John's Luther League.

It was decided to hold a parents' night meeting of the league in the future and to attend the showing of the Martin Luther movie in a body. The brief meeting was presided over by Norman Wangman, president of the group. Mrs. Russell Decker and Miss Kathryn Yost are advisers of the league.

During the devotional session prayer was offered by Rev. J. B. Bergstresser, pastor of the Hamilton Parish. The topic was presented by Mrs. Decker.

Following the business and devotional session a variety of costumes ranging from a big league ball player to Satan, were judged. Pastor Bergstresser won the prize for the most unique costume, that of a vegetable garden. Games and refreshments followed in the social rooms.

County PMA Calls Series Of Meetings

Meetings to explain the purpose and requirements of the 1954 Production and Marketing Administration program will be held throughout the county in the next two weeks.

PMA committeemen formerly visited individual farms to answer questions and enroll members. This year the meetings will replace the individual visits.

First meetings will be at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 4 at Chestnut Hill High School and at Smithfield Consolidated School.

On Nov. 5 meetings will be at 7 to 4 p.m. and again at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Archie Heller, Snyderville; 1 to 5 p.m. at Pearsall Hall, Kunkletown; and at 7:30 p.m. at Eldred Township Elementary School.

Meetings Nov. 6 will be at 7:30 p.m. Cold Springs School, Long Pond; and at 7:30 p.m. Jackson Township High School.

On Nov. 9 there will be one meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Fork Township High School.

Frank Spain, Past President Of Rotary International, To Speak At District Conference

Rock Hill Falls—At the annual Rotary Conference to be held at the Inn here Nov. 13, 14 and 15, the Rotarians of District 262 will be honored when Frank E. Spain, of Birmingham, Ala., past president of Rotary International, will be the official representative of Joaquin Serratusa Cihils, president of Rotary International.

Mr. Spain is senior partner in the law firm of Spain, Gilson, Grooms and Young, and is vice president and general counsel of the Liberty National Life Insurance Co., and the Bankers Fire and Marine Insurance Co., of Birmingham, Ala.

He is also a director and general counsel of the Dinkler Hotels Co., O. Z. Hall Motors, Jackson Industries, Hotel Tutwiler Corp., Foreyth Corp., Alabama Asphaltic Limestone Co., and the Odum, Bowers and White Corp.

He was born in Memphis, Tenn., but has lived in Alabama nearly all his life. He was graduated from Birmingham Southern College and from the University of Alabama.

Since 1937, Mr. Spain has been a member of the Rotary Club of Birmingham, and is a past president of that club. He has served Rotary International as president (in 1951-52), vice president, director, district governor, committee member and chairman. For 1953-54, he is chairman of the Rotary Foundation Trustees and a chairman of the Rotary International Headquarters Committee.

Mr. Spain has served his community as director of the Chamber of Commerce, appeal chairman and president of the Community Chest of Birmingham and Jefferson County, and chairman of the Housing Authority of the Birmingham District. He is president of the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce for 1953.

He has served his state as appeal chairman of the Alabama War Chest, chairman of the Alabama Association of Housing Authorities, member of the Judicial Council of Alabama, and as president of the Alabama Motorists Association. He is a member of the advisory board of the Southern Research Institute.

He has been chairman of the insurance section of the American Bar Association and of the legal section of the American Life Convention, and is a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers.

Mr. Spain is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa honorary societies, and a chevalier of the French Legion of Honor. During World War I, he served as an officer in the United States Army.
